HUGHES IS CHIEF OF POLICE; VOWS CRIME CLEANUP

Run Out Crooks in 90 Days, Is Order.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

"Go-Get-'Em Mike," as Mayor Thompson has frequently labeled Michael Hughes, was appointed police chief of Chicago yesterday. He was selected by his honor to "drive the crooks out of Chicago in 90 days."

"I shall put forth every effort to make good the mayor's promise," announced the new chief after taking his oath.

"Is 90 days long enough?" he was asked.

"I hope so," Hughes replied. "I'll do my best to make good the mayor's promise. When the crooks are convinced we mean business, some of them will volunteer to get out of town. I will do everything possible to put them in jail if they stay."

"Greatest Thief Catcher."

Charles C. Fitzmorris, newly-appointed city controller, who was formerly Thompson's police chief, has called Mike Hughes "the greatest thief catcher Chicago ever knew." The men who helped Hughes gain that reputation apparently were pleased when they congratulated the new chief. These men are Lieuts. John J. Farrell, Charles Egan, William E. O'Connor, George De Mar, Garrett Cona, and Sergia Michael McCadden, Kyran Phelan, John McGarvey, and Thomas Burke.

The new chief took Deputy Chief John H. Alcock off the shelf and put him to work. For four years Alcock had been assigned to a desk in the stenographers' room.

Former Chief Morgan Collins, who resigned yesterday both as head of the department and as captain of police and asked for his pension, has had Matthew Zimmer and John E. Ptacek as his chief aids. Hughes said that Alcock is to be his only deputy superintendent of police, which probably means that Zimmer and Ptacek will be given a district within a few days.

Promises Important Changes.

Chief Hughes said he would make some important changes within a few days. One rumor is that Lieut. William E. O'Connor will replace William Schaeffer as chief of detectives. Another report is that Capt. Martin Muller, who was secretary to former Chief Fitzmorris, may get the job instead of O'Connor. If Muller does not, according to the doce, he may again be made secretary to the chief. Capt. William Russell of the Hyde Park station, Capt. John L. Hogan of the East Side station and Detective James Gorlitz were other names whispered around yesterday as likely to be given important tasks by the new chief. One of them was mentioned in connection with the job of assistant chief of detectives, now held by John Stege. But the new chief gave the impression that new assignments had not been decided upon.

Chief Hughes, as head of the county highway police, had not expected to assume his new job until next Monday, but Chief Collins tendered his resignation about noon to Mayor Thompson and the mayor phoned for Hughes to show up at the city hall.

Start with Clean State.

"I am not going to criticize any one," explained Chief Hughes, "we are starting with the slate clean. My word to the department is: 'Let's go to work—legitimate work.'

"My first task is to stop serious crime. That is the all important subject to the citizens of Chicago."

"Do you desire to make any comment on beer runners," was asked.

"Some of them have criminal records," replied the chief. "Others are gunmen. These criminals must get out. Mayor Thompson has told me he will back me up. He has given me absolute charge."

"What comment have you to make on vice and gambling?"

"Those will get attention later. Open gambling and vice will be suppressed, but major crime will get my first consideration. There are criminals engaged in vice and gambling and they will have to get out."

NOTABLE POLICE RECORD

Michael Hughes, Mayor Thompson's new superintendent of police, came to Chicago an Irish immigrant boy. He has been a member of the Chicago police department, attaining the rank of captain and serving as chief of detectives. Since the first of the year Chief Hughes has been on a furlough and captured by a police squad as he

MOTHER OF FIVE KILLS HUSBAND AS HE SLEEPS

Andrew Brogan, 48 years old, lay down to sleep on a cot in his home at 2024 Clinton avenue last night. His wife, Anna, left their five children in an adjoining room, took a pistol from a drawer, walked in and shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Brogan went back to the children and commanded quiet. Then she decked herself in her best clothes, instructed her sons, Andrew, 15, and Martin, 14, to notify State's Attorney Crowe and shot herself. The bullet inflicted only a scalp wound.

The 17 year old twin daughters of the couple, Veronica and Madeline, and their 11 year old brother, Miles, told of frequent quarrels of the couple. Brogan, an ex-policeman, had been working in the city department of electric fire-break between the two settlements.

Contents of a diary kept by Mrs. Brogan plainly indicate she is demented, the police said.

There were about 125 cottages in the section where the fire was raging, most of which were owned by residents of Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, and Grand Rapids, Mich. Officials said a number of young people had been holding a party in one of the cottages where the fire originated. They departed before the flames were discovered.

CARROLL'S WIFE FALLS ILL AT EARL'S BEDSIDE

Greenville, S. C., April 14.—(P—)

Mrs. Earl Carroll, wife of the New York theatrical producer whose celebrated bath tub party is leading him to prison, came here to be at her sick husband's bedside today only to fall seriously ill herself.

While attending physicians were noting great improvement in the producer's condition to the point where they felt he was at times partially relieved from the state of coma into which he sank yesterday morning, Mrs. Carroll was sent to bed suffering with bronchitis and a temperature which reached 103° F.

Although she also shows indications of influenza, Dr. R. C. Bruce declared Mrs. Carroll's condition was not dangerous.

One of the men was fired on and captured by a police squad as he

GIRLS' ANNOYER SHOT TO DEATH IN WACKER DRIVE

Niceman Fires as Taxi Passenger Draws Gun.

(Pictures on back page.) For the second time within ten days citizens and motorists hurrying along the new Wacker drive yesterday witnessed a fatal shooting. As in the last fatality, when Schaefer Drueck, 26, leader, was killed, a policeman was the victim.

The girls, Gertrude Sullivan, 26, son old, and Dorothy Rogers, 21, of 100 North Clark street, stopped their car at Franklin street and the driver signaled to Holland, who was driving traffic at the intersection.

Girls Ask Policeman's Aid.

"Protect us from that fellow. He's shooting us everywhere we go," urged the girls, indicating Soulis, who seated a second taxi drawing him behind the girls' cab.

Policeman Holland approached motor cab and then opened the door. "I don't have to get out on the walk where I could question him, instead he made a grab for a gun," Holland later told Capt. Patrick Muller of Central police.

Holland was quicker on the trigger. He fired as Soulis was drawing his revolver from a holster at his belt.

The girls said that Soulis, whom they had known for several weeks, had given an alarm clock from their rooms and when they accused him had threatened to kill them.

Girls Try to Escape Him.

We noticed Soulis hanging around outside our flat and decided we had better move or he might harm us," said Miss Sullivan. "We started out for new lodgings in Washington boulevard and saw him following us."

When we tried to escape Soulis were unable to driving about at random. The drivers of the two taxicabs also were questioned by Capt. Kellher.

A search of police records showed that Soulis had difficulties with the police before because of his readiness with a revolver. He was fined $100 and costs by Judge William Hender in July, 1925, when he pulled a gun on Detectives Dorsey and Quillan after they had raided an alleged den in Hill street in which he was said to be interested.

New Seaplane Altitude Record Believed Made

Washington, D. C., April 14.—(AP)—

A new altitude record for seaplanes carrying a load of 500 kilograms (1,102 pounds) was believed by the navy department to have been made today by Lieut. George R. Henderson at the Anacostia naval air station. The navy considers that Henderson, taking off in the department's new "Corsair" seaplane, bettered the existing mark of 20,200 feet for this class of planes by several hundred feet.

U. S. FLYERS SET NEW ENDURANCE MARK: 51 HOURS

Beat French World Record Nearly Six Hours.

New York, April 14.—(Special)—Clarence D. Chamberlin and Bert Acosta, American civilian flyers, brought the world's nonstop record back to the United States today with a continuous flight of 51 hours 11 minutes and 23 seconds.

In their study Bellanca monoplane, they beat by approximately six hours the record made in France by the French army officers, Drouhin and Landry, who flew a Farman biplane 45 hours 11 minutes and 59 seconds at Paris on April 12.

Chamberlin and Acosta kept on for 24 hours without food or drink, after they had already been in the air a day and a night and half another day of exceedingly rough going for such a test.

Plan Atlantic Flight.

Hour after weary hour they followed a course that took them back and forth above the flying fields of Long Island. Sometimes they went out over the ocean, "to practice flying by compass and navigation," as Chamberlin remarked, with a tired grin, as he told the story of the flight. For these two are looking to other records.

They propose to be the first to fly a straight motorized plane across the Atlantic to Paris. Early tomorrow mechanism will remove the motor that sustained them so well and put in another.

Could Have Made Paris.

"We could have made it this time," Acosta and Chamberlin chimed in, and they explained how they figured they had it down, since they took the air at 9:30 A.M. Tuesday morning, well over 4,000 miles. Both of them are eager to go, though the plan for the dash has not been settled.

The endurance flight nearly ended before it was well started by the one mishap that occurred. They took off well, rising with their useful load of 3,080 pounds after a run of only 1,200 feet, which both pilots declare is a record for such a light plane. They had reached only a thousand feet in altitude when the gasoline was cut off.

Chamberlin quickly sheared off ready to make a landing in Mitchell Field or the ocean. The other supplies, beef and chicken sandwiches and chocolate bars, all thirst-producing foods, gave out some time Wednesday forenoon, and the fluids that were fit for consumption were gone by noon of the same day. Neither man left his seat to sleep during the first 24 hours, although a mattress and quilts had been spread on one of the big gas tanks in the fuselage. They dozed and catnapped in their seats.

DIPLOMAT DIVORCES WIFE IN PARIS AFTER POLICE RAID LOVE NEST

(Chicago Tribune Photo Service)
PARIS, April 14.—Maj. Leon Ward Hoyt, United States marine corps attached to the American embassy during his period of study at the French war college, won a divorce today from Vilma Gregor, 27, and countess. Her chief claim, Maj. Hoyt charged infidelity as a result of a police raid organized by himself on a hotel, where he found his wife in company with Nicolas Carmano, son of a prominent Parisian banker. Mrs. Hoyt, who was formerly of Washington, D. C., subsequently was fined 50 francs ($3.50) by the Paris courts for adultery. The couple were married in San Francisco on May 1, 1918.

3 DIE IN PLANE CRASH AT SCENE OF RECORD FLIGHT

New York, April 14.—(Special)—A woman and two men were killed when a Curtiss Lark, hovering over Roosevelt field, where the world's endurance record for airplanes was broken today, crashed from a height of 175 feet onto the motor parkway, near Westbury.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Mary Beauman. The two men were John P. Andrews, a pilot attached to Curtiss field, and H. E. Stole of Louisville, Ky.

The plane crashed on the parkway between Curtiss and Mitchel fields. Frank Jasper of Westbury, driving in his car, saw the fall and rushed to the scene. Andrews, in the front cockpit, was barely breathing. The woman and Stole, seated in the rear, were dead.

DELAYS FUSION COURT TICKET; OPINION DIVIDED

At a meeting next Monday the Chicago Bar Association committee judicial candidates will try to reach a decision as to whether it will endorse a fusion ticket for the court election on June 5.

The overwhelming Republican vote at the mayoralty election was cited by some members of the committee yesterday as an argument that a fusion ticket, to which political leaders have agreed, would deny the voters a chance to make a free choice.

Others held that if the judicial election followed the mayoralty precedent, and there were no fusion, many Democratic judges with good records would be swept off the bench.

The association's committee denied the association has instigated a movement to retire Judges George Fred Rush and Oscar M. Torrison.

START CENSUS OF CITY'S BUSINESS TO HELP IT GROW

Every dollar's worth of merchandise bought and sold in Chicago (excluding bootleg liquor) is to be accounted for in a census to be taken immediately, the Chicago Association of Commerce announced yesterday. On the date thus obtained will be based the greatest campaign for increased business ever attempted in an American city, it was stated.

H. L. Rockhill, special agent of the census bureau, was in town yesterday. An entire door was removed at 171 West Madison street and the employment of 300 enumerators and 30 clerks began.

The census forms are being printed, and will be taken to every retailer, wholesaler, commission firm, broker, importer, exporter, cooperative selling organization, or any other kind of a merchandising firm, according to the announcement.

CHICAGO SOCIETY MAN JAILED FOR PARIS AUTO CRASH

PARIS, April 14.—Otis Chatfield-Taylor, prominent social in Chicago, spent last night in jail here following a violent collision with a Parisian taxicab.

Returning from the golf links at St. Cloud, Mr. Chatfield-Taylor tried to pass an auto bus when he collided with the cab at a smart rate of speed. He was thrown through the windshield and was not seriously, on the face and head. He luckily escaped being crushed under his car, which turned completely over.

When he doffed his golf togs, Mr. Chatfield-Taylor forgot two essentials to a foreigner in Paris—a passport identity card and a driving license, and the gendarmes held him until this morning.

HUGHES BECOMES CHIEF AND VOWS CRIME CLEANUP

to serve as chief of highway police under Sheriff Graydon.

Born in Ireland in 1871, Mike Hughes was reared in County Galway, where he attended school until he was 16 years of age.

There wasn't much to look forward to in Galway, so at the age of 17 Mike came to Chicago where he had friends and got a job at the stock yards at $1.75 a day.

Appointed Policeman in 1894.

Hughes was appointed to the police department in 1894, but for some time before that he had been a policeman in the stock yards, where a small force is maintained by the packers. His first assignment as a city policeman was at the Stockyards station. In those days probationary patrolmen were not given steady employment, the chance of getting a night's work depending upon some one being off. A probationer receiving $3 for his night's work, and if he got in half time he considered himself lucky.

"My first year on the force was tough going," said Chief Hughes, modestly. "At that time we put in ten hours for a night's work. The western boundary of the stock yards district was Kedzie avenue, which then was away out in the sticks. After making the last 'pull' at 4 o'clock in the morning you had to walk to the station, as there were no street cars running. I didn't mind it if the weather was fine, but when the snow was up to your knees you had to make a path for the policeman."

After leaving the Stock Yards station, Hughes did downtown crossing duty for a short time. Later he was assigned to the Harrison street station, and from there he was sent to 12th street as a sergeant. This was in the hey-day of the notorious red light district, and, incidentally, Sergt. Hughes was not involved in the upheaval that resulted in several policemen of high and low rank being discharged from the force.

Good Record in Bureau.

The new head of the police department is best known for his work as chief of detectives. He was transferred to the bureau in 1918 and put in charge of one of the squads. His work won him recognition and he was rewarded by being promoted to acting lieutenant. As an instance of the police work done by him, the records of the department show that in May, 1920, Hughes and his squad convicted thirteen criminals who were given sentences of life.

In August, 1920, he was promoted to Lieutenant of detectives on the recommendation of Chief John J. Garity. A year later he was made captain by Chief Charles C. Fitzmorris. In the meantime he had succeeded Capt. James L. Mooney as chief of detectives and he held this position until November 19, 1924. On that date he was transferred to the command of an outlying station, which was in the nature of a reduction, and he turned in his star to Chief Morgan A. Collins.

Friends begged him to reconsider his resignation (which Chief Collins was reluctant to receive) and he was given a leave of absence. Hughes returned to duty April 1, 1925, as captain at the Irving Park station. A few months later he was transferred at his own request, to Deering street, where he was in command when appointed chief of the county highway police.

Faithful by Nature.

Every customer and crook knows and loves Mike Hughes. In his 21 years of service he has received 21 credits.

able mentions, a record without parallel.

Chief Hughes is married and to him there is no place like his own fireide. He is the father of three daughters, and one son, Nicholas, who is a patrolman. Two of the daughters and the son are married. Miss Catherine, the youngest of the family, lives at home.

There are seven grandchildren who think Grandpa Hughes is just the finest man in the world. The same opinion is shared by Mrs. Hughes who says she knew that some day "her Mike" would reach the top of the ladder.

KILL'S HERSELF WITH GAS.

With a blanket over her head and gas fuming from several burners, Mrs. Catherine Hillman, 40 years old, a widow, was found dead yesterday on top of the kitchen stove at her home, 6209 Harper avenue.

Two of the four men seized with the girl in the tear bomb raid were also identified by Robinson as participating in the robbery with the Konkel girl, who is known to police under the adictive name of Helen Conklin. Helen Conklin and Helen Blackie, two girls named and Joseph Menachinski, 27, who are said to have made partial confessions.

Wanted: Jumping Bandit.

The Konkel girl, who spent most of the day in warring with police and newspaper photographers, has a brother in Joliet penitentiary for robbery, police say. She had long been sought on a bond forfeiture charge involving the robbery of a Rogers Park fur shop, Lieut. Sullivan said. The finding of a telephone number in a bandit dropped in the course of the robbery by the girl bandit led detective to the Sacramento apartment. Refused admittance, the detective shot away the lock upon a back door with a riot gun and finally drove the occupants into the street by dropping of tear bombs into the basement. The loot was recovered.

MAYOR HAS OWN HARBOR POLICIES; REJECTS PUTNAM

Moves to Fire McAndrew; To Aid West Side.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

More interesting and much more important than seven cabinet appointments announced yesterday were three declarations of policy by Mayor Thompson on three live subjects.

First came the appointment of former Congressman John J. Gorman as special assistant corporation counsel "in school matters."

What that phrase means was not officially explained, but from a reliable source it was learned out that Gorman would handle the legal end of Mayor Thompson's controversy with the school board over a promised elimination of Superintendent McAndrew.

Possibility that the row between the new administration and the school board may be ironed out arose yesterday when Mayor Thompson accepted an invitation extended by Walter J. Raymer, the new head of the school board to meet today and "talk matters over." The common ground on which friend Gorman and his chief antagonist think there is a chance to found an understanding is the fact that Supt. McAndrew's term of office expires in about nine months, with little hope of getting rid of him before that. If the board will consent to get rid of him as soon as it can be done legally and will promise to discontinue the use of certain school books to which Mayor Thompson objects, it is possible that an understanding may be reached, it is said.

Receives Business Leaders.

Next came the mayor's reception of Rufus Abbott, president of the Commercial club, and of John W. Scott, president of the Industrial club. They offered the aid of those organizations in the development of Chicago. In order to obtain a harbor plan, the Commercial club offered the last city administration to defray the cost of making a survey and that administration selected Rufus W. Putnam, former federal engineer at Chicago, to make a survey and report.

"I told the gentlemen that I welcome their aid," the mayor, who is having a harbor survey made, commented later, "but that Maj. Putnam had interfered with proper water way

RAYMER'S CHOICE STIRS STEERING ALDERMEN'S IRE

Makes McAndrew Ousting Sure; Pick School Stake.

Miami, Fla., April 14.—[Special]—Chicago's new city council is going to back Mayor Thompson to the limit in his battle to gain control of the board of education, oust Supt. McAndrew, and "purge" the public schools of an influence which Thompson says has substituted the king of England for George Washington.

The council's steering committee read with surprise in today's Miami papers the news of Walter J. Raymer's election as president of the school board. It was reported desire to keep McAndrew and other aldermen's groups to call for a federal inquiry into his charges of classroom disloyalty.

After a short conference with Ald. Cronson and Nelson, Thompsonites doing most of the talking, the slate makers handed out the lineup of the new school committee. It contains many friends of Mayor Thompson.

Only three or four of the fourteen members, it is believed, might balk at approving Mr. Thompson's new appointment.

Proposed New School Slate.

Ald. John Holland, the chairman, a Republican of German descent and a fan of McAndrew, is the personal choice of the mayor. The other members of the slate are Anderson, Wilson, Coyle, Maypole, Adamkiewicz, Chapman, T. J. Bowler, Mills, Crowe, Feigenbutz, Massen, Mose, and Rowan.

Ald. Arvey, Dever's old floor leader, who led the fight for Raymer and Dever's other board appointees in January, is replaced by Anderson, colored member of the black belt. Other members—Chapman, Feigenbutz, Massen, Mose, Coyle, and Rowan—but all the last three are newly elected Republicans.

Police Shakeup, Too.

The makeup of the new committee on police and municipal institutions was announced tonight as follows: Ald. Thomas Byrne, a Democrat, chairman; Cronson, Jackson, Grossman, Goeyer, Wilson, Hartnett, Coyle, Cepak, J. B. Bowler, Petlak, Nusser, Feigenbutz, Loescher, Hoellen, Jackson, and Moore.

Jackson, colored alderman from the Third ward, takes the place of Albert, who approved the pre-election raid of Chief Collins in the black belt. Thompson, it is indicated, will control ten of the fifteen committee votes.

Bowler Promises Cleanup.

"Chicago's policemen are up to their necks in liquor, gambling, and vice rackets," Bowler asserted, "and if I do nothing else I'm going to see that they are put back on the job of catching crooks instead of protecting them."

Schmidt to Aid Faherty.

George K. Schmidt was selected last night as vice president and member of the board of local improvements. He is president of the Prudential State bank, at North avenue and Halsted street. Many years ago he was an alderman from the 28th ward, after a member of the county board, and he also has been a member of the board of assessors. He resides at 4228 Sheridan road, in the 28th ward, and has been a member of the Republican county committee from that ward. He was born in Chicago Dec. 18, 1869, and has been active in German and other charities.

CROWD JOINS UP FOR CRUISE WITH COMMODORE BILL

Waterway Pilgrimage to Dixie Starts Monday.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Enlistments for the cruise of the good ships Cape Girardeau and Cincinnati, New Orleans bound with Mayor William Hale Thompson at the helm, were opened into the mayor's headquarters yesterday. Approximately 500 men are expected to make the voyage, bearing messages of good will to Mayor Arthur O'Keefe of New Orleans.

Thompson, the candidate promised his campaign audiences they would hear the whistle of the New Orleans-Chicago steamships within two years. Thompson, the mayor, through his waterway committee, let it be known that the present trip is intended to speed the day when the waterway will be a reality.

The able seamen, bos'n's mates, ensigns and gold stripes who will man the ships comprise many of the city's best known business and professional

DAVIS AT CAPITAL, SILENT ON PILFERED NOTES TO MEXICO

Washington, D. C., April 14.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Kellogg left tonight for Hot Springs, Va., for a short vacation after disclaiming any interest in the arrival in Washington of Lieut. Col. Davis, military attaché at Mexico City, who was summoned to Washington to assist in the investigation of the pilfering of documents from the American embassy.

Secretary Kellogg said that he did not expect to confer with Col. Davis and that, so far as he knew, the military attaché came to Washington to confer with war department officials. Col. Davis, who registered at the Army and Navy club, had no comment to make.

men, labor leaders and public officials, and many others from downstate.

Edward F. Moore, deputy commissioner of public works and in charge of the arrangements for the voyage, said he expected to have a few of the 500 citizens left today for those of the faithful who have not yet made reservations.

The first of the departing groups of Big Bill's friends will entrain Monday night at 11:55 o'clock on the Wabash railroad for St. Louis. Thompson's formal inauguration will occupy the early evening.

The Cape Girardeau will embark father, J. Herbert Ware.

from St. Louis on Tuesday morning. It will be joined at Cairo by the Cincinnati, the passengers of which are to leave Chicago at 11 o'clock Tuesday night over the Illinois Central railroad.

The Cape Girardeau and the Cincinnati then will travel side by side down the river. Mayor Thompson has reservations on both ships and has planned to divide his time equally between the two.

Short stops probably will be made at Memphis, Vicksburg, Natchez, and Baton Rouge, but no definite program has been arranged. Dispatches from cities along the Mississippi say that a tremendous welcome will be given to the three day mayor of Chicago at every landing place.

At New Orleans Mr. Thompson will present Mayor O'Keefe with a coonskin maled to a cabin door as a symbol of victory and also with a memorial pledging enduring friendship between Chicago and the southern city.

"SNOOPER SMELL BILL" GETS HOUSE O. K. IN MICHIGAN

Lansing, Mich., April 14.—[Special.]—The Fulver bill, authorizing the issuance of search warrants upon evidence that liquor was smelled, was approved by the Michigan house in committee of the whole today. It will come up for final passage Friday.

The measure, which has passed the senate, was characterized by Representative Robert D. Wardell, wet leader, as the "smelling bill."

"Its adoption will mean that a person may obtain a search warrant if he smells sauer kraut or beets cooking in some one else's house," he asserted.

Inasmuch as the Michigan constitution is bone dry, the discovery of a drop of any beverage containing even a trace of alcohol will constitute a felony. This act would empower officers to search an automobile if he smelled alcohol from the radiator.

"It is a violation of the unenforced rights of the constitution. If we follow the lead of the dry workers who sponsored this bill we will wipe out all of the federal and state constitutions except the eighteenth amendment.

"I do not care if the bill is enacted. If it is it will give us just the weapon we want to combat prohibition. The householder will become so sick of snoopers, he will be glad to change."

ASKS FOR TIGHTER BOARD OF TRADE ELEVATOR RULES

Duvel Talks; Marcy Will Testify Today.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Readjustment of the grain warehousing situation in Chicago is the big thing needed to restore Board of Trade prestige both among farmers and bankers, according to J. W. T. Duvel, chief of the grain futures administration of the department of agriculture, who arrived in Chicago yesterday.

That this soon will be brought about is strongly indicated by the activity of federal, state, and Board of Trade authorities. Attorney Silas H. Straw has been engaged by the board to help work out a new plan. He is expected back from Washington today.

"The action of the board in the suspension of the Armour Grain company stands with my approval," Mr. Duvel said. "That action should have been taken last year when the rye screening scandal came up."

Marcy's Interest Paramount.
"We are not interested primarily in the punishment of individuals, but in securing about a general improvement and in making this a good market, efficient and economical, between producer and consumer. This will have to be done, even though it hurts a few pocketbooks."

Now an Illinois legislative committee is conducting an inquiry, and it is admitted that the state warehousing laws are archaic. The rye and wheat scandals both involved the Armour Grain company in warehousing irregularities. The first case is still pending in the courts. The first, involving Marcy, was held to be attacked as unconstitutional. The second, involving the downfall of the Grain Marketing company, the farmers' great cooperative hope of two years ago, still is under inquiry.

This morning the legislative investigating committee, Thomas Curran, chairman, will resume work, hearing testimony of George E. Marcy, former president of the Armour Grain company. Marcy's story never has been told except in the private hearings conducted by Edward E. Brown, general counsel and a vice president of the First National Bank, who acted as monitor before the Armour Grain company and Rosenbaum Grain company.

Several Witnesses Due Today.
Other Armour Grain company men to testify will be examined today by Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, special counsel for the committee, include George E. Thompson, former superintendent, and Frank D. Cromble, former superintendent of the North Western elevator, under lease to the Armour Grain company. Another witness is to be Louis O. Safré of the Rosenbaum Grain company.

In his findings that the Armour Grain company must pay $1,600,000 to the Grain Marketing company by May 1st, Broder held the samples of warehouse wheat were changed, and that the Grain Marketing company was thus forced to pay for a higher grade of wheat delivered to it. Of Marcy's part, the arbitrator reported: "In weighing the testimony, it seems to me that the preponderance of testimony is that when Marcy got the figures from Thompson on the North Western elevator, he did not know that the quantity of wheat in the North Western elevator was overstocked. He did know that the wheat would not grade out as reported to him by Thompson."

The Armour Grain company has requested a week's delay in the operation of the Board of Trade directors suspension from trading orders that was to go into effect today.

"PLAIN DRUNKS" OFTEN CASES OF BROKEN SKULLS

Dr. Le Count's Fight Is Boon to Poor.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

A man of 70 was arrested for acute alcoholism and kept in a police station for ten hours. Upon his removal to the House of Correction hospital, lobar pneumonia and delirium tremens were diagnosed. Post-mortem examination revealed a fracture of the right middle fossa 17.5 cm. long.

That such cases of mal-diagnosis are far from as common today as they were less than a decade ago is largely due to researches in skull fractures by Dr. E. R. Le Count of Chicago.

He is head of the department of pathology of Rush Medical college. He has done history-making work in the same field of medical science.

Some of his innovations in medical pedagogy have brought so much freshness into that branch of teaching and have effected reforms so salutary that they brought a revolution in the minds of teachers capable of managing a new idea.

But it is when you say "Le Count on skull fracture" that you command the instant and respectful attention of every American physician who keeps step with progress.

Poor Were Chief Sufferers.

Mishandling of skull fractures occurring among the poor, among derelicts, and among toilers in rough occupations whose work exposed them to falls and blows, was shocking.

In no American city was it more shocking than in Chicago. Ignorance was the cause of it, and ignorance bred its usual sequel of pitiless indifference.

Needless and prolonged suffering, death, and disgrace, sometimes unmerited, were the results of the mishandling.

The fact was that time and time again "the picture," as physicians put it, of skull fracture was covered up by either mild or acute alcoholism, or by an ignorant or indifferent physician's suspicion of alcoholism.

Dr. Edwin Raymond Le Count set out to show that such covering of the picture proved nothing and that suspicion, as a basis of diagnosis in skull fracture was a disgrace to a practitioner.

The task the professor bent to was not popular.

Much Ignorance Exposed.

It exposed ignorance in too many places.

Popularity has, however, been and

MRS. COOLIDGE SENT FLOWERS BY CHILDREN FROM PACIFIC COAST

Washington, D. C., April 14.—(AP)—

A gift of flowers from children of the Salvation Army home at Lynwood Springs, Cal., was a kiss from Mrs. Coolidge today for two little Washington Salvation Army children.

Mrs. Coolidge sent word to the California children that she wished they could be at the White House next Monday for the annual Easter egg rolling.

The flowers, which were sent here by airplane and accompanied by a letter from Mayor James Ralph of San Francisco, were presented to Mrs. Coolidge by Ketitia Holt and Robert M. Rose, whose parents are Salvation Army officers here.

It is the least crowding of Dr. Le Count's preoccupation.

Nearly 20 years ago a bolder man than most took the time to comment on the "poor old man's face on an aspect of his pedagogical unpopularity that did him honor."

Dr. Le Count, with a certain unresentful dryness, that made fine music in some ears, replied:

"I beg you to overlook the personal element of my unpopularity, a matter in which I never was greatly interested."

Did definitiveness ever speak more suavely?

But to our clinic.

I can show you a monograph which describes dozens of cases as pitiful as the case of that poor old man which THE TRIBUNE puts at the top of this column.

The monograph is Le Count's.

It represents seven years of research and 504 post-mortem examinations. Most of those examinations were made by Dr. Le Count in Cook county hospital and morgue. They began in 1911. They did not end until the close of 1914.

Show Many Tragedies.

They revealed tragedy after tragedy. Here is one: (I compact the extensive record closely.)

"A boy of eight years, run over by an automobile, had an epidemic meningitis. It was diagnosed twice. . . . No one suspected skull fracture."

But there was skull fracture.

Another case:

"An ambulance surgeon diagnosed skull fracture. . . . Post-mortem examination revealed a fracture of the right middle fossa 18.5 cm. long. . . . There was no external sign of injury."

One more:

". . . knocked to the ground by falling sack of mail. Several physicians examined him, but not one of them suspected the presence of a fracture of the skull, and one of them sent him to the hospital for the insens, where he lived seven hours and fifty minutes. No diagnosis was made in the hospital.

But there was skull fracture.

In another case there was failure to detect the presence of skull fracture, or the fracture was discovered only after days or hours had elapsed.

One direct result of Dr. Le Count's disclosures was the establishment in Cook county hospital of a special observation ward for possible skull fracture patients. In this ward they are under observation for twenty-four hours.

Le Count Silent About Self.

Dr. Le Count in what he told me about research work done in the pathological department of the great college he adorns, and at Cook county hospital, told me nothing about Le Count on skull fractures. I had to dig out of books that give you the creeps by making you think you have all the ailments they describe with appalling particularity—or I had to learn from the lips of other physicians.

Such is the reticence of Dr. Le Count, that the physicians who truly admire the work of the man would talk with the text Prof. Le Count would talk with the text inherent in his slogan, Observe! Observe! Observe!

Rush Medical college, now an affiliation of the University of Chicago, was the pioneer in Chicago in pathological research and the teaching of pathology. Here, too, Woodyatt did his great work on diabetes.

The history of pathology in Chicago began with the arrival here in 1877 of the revered Christian Fenger. For a quarter of a century he wrought at Rush.

Dr. Lovig Hektoen and Dr. Le

Count are his successors.

Some Rush College Alumnae.

"Yields, yields, yields—Rush's yields, our yields"—he named them with the speed a proud child skips through the alphabet; the men who have gone ahead and who are an honor to science.

Look at the head of the surgical department at Johns Hopkins: Graham, head of the surgical department at Washington university, St. Louis; Fisher, professor of physiology in the University of Cincinnati; Munro, professor of pathology in the University of Oregon; Dunn, head of the department of experimental medicine, University of Nebraska; Eggers, head of the department of pathology in the same; Wells, head of the department of pathology in the University of Chicago; Carter, head of the department of surgery in the same; Fishbein, chief publicist of the American Medical Association; Davis, dean of the medical department of the University of Illinois; the great George Dick; Simonds, head of the department of pathology in Northwestern university, and Hatton, in charge of the pathological work in the dental department of the same.

Some Happy Results.

"Only a few—only a few," Prof. Le Count mused, "of the many who could be named as conspicuous examples of the happy results to which the work of this department of Rush has contributed."

What does such an inspirer of great men care about what the world calls "unpopularity?"

"It's very fitting. The service and the inspiration—from generation unto generation they abide, over beautiful ever young."

WISE OLD MINER SAVES 19 TRAPPED 8 HOURS IN FLOOD

Henryetta, Okla., April 14.—(AP)—

After flood trapped for eight hours by flood waters ninety-six feet below ground in the old Wise mine near here, nineteen coal miners were led to safety late today by John Cameron, a veteran miner.

While two holes were being sunk to reach the men, Cameron recalled there was an abandoned shaft of an old mine a mile away and he went down into it and wandered around its dark passageways with a flashlight until he heard the voices of the trapped men.

27 KILLED WHEN QUAKE HITS CHILE AND ARGENTINA

11 Dead and 40 Hurt in Santiago.

BY HAROLD TATAM,
(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

[Copyright: 1927. By The Chicago Tribune.]

Buenos Aires, Argentina, April 14.—Related dispatches from Mendoza, Argentina, say sixteen persons were killed and more than fifty injured in an earthquake there at 2:20 a. m. today. The principal church in the city, San Nicolas, collapsed, as did several other buildings. Several towns in the provinces of Mendoza and San Juan also were damaged. It is believed the casualties in Mendoza province may total 100.

The city of Mendoza is in the foot-hills of the Andes, about 100 miles northeast of Santiago, Chile.

The dispatches say the people were panic stricken by the earthquake.

The quake which caused several deaths in Santiago, Chile, was felt slightly in Buenos Aires, though few of those night birds who saw glasses dance on cafe tables attributed the phenomenon to seismic causes. Other Argentine cities also felt the shock.

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 14.—Eleven persons were killed and forty injured here when the most severe earthquake since 1906 struck Santiago and Valparaiso at 1:42 a. m. today. It continued for 2 minutes. The damage to buildings was not large. Plaster in the United States embassy was shattered and furniture was broken.

At Valparaiso a few persons were injured. The material damage was light. The quake also was felt at Coquimbo and Valdivia.

Many die in storm off Spain.

PARIS, April 14.—(UPI)—An undetermined number of lives have been lost and many more injured along the coasts of Spain and Morocco in consequence of the great storm which started Tuesday over the Mediterranean. Hundreds of fishing smacks are missing, and it is believed many fisher folk have been drowned. Dispatches through Spain this afternoon estimated the material damage at $10,000,000. Several buildings were swept off the Gibraltar coast, and the piers and vil-

MADRID, April 14.—Gen. Primo de Rivera, Spanish dictator, will rush to Melilla and Algeciras tomorrow to assure himself of the safety of the Spanish expeditionary forces in Morocco, whose communication and supplies were cut off by a violent storm which has been raging in north Africa and southern Spain for the last three days and who are held up to the extreme of starvation by the Rifians.

At a special meeting of the cabinet today the Spanish dictator reported the gravity of the situation and announced that it would be impossible for him to keep his engagement as one of the hosts of the prince of Wales at Seville on Easter.

Gen. de Rivera also launched an order that a new expeditionary force of one company from every regiment in Spain, which are ordered to proceed immediately to the nearest port and embark for Morocco. The combined Franco-Spanish offensive is expected to be launched on May 1.

President Coolidge has signed an executive order extending the boundaries of the Superior National forest in Minnesota by 425,000 acres. If over the purchase money is available, the government will have a total of 1,500,000 acres in Michigan and Minnesota to administer in its program of reforestation in the lake states. This contrasts with 2,500,000 acres in existing national forests in the Atlantic coast states.

Middle western congressmen have displayed an indifference to the development of national forests in this region that is astonishing. They have allowed southern and eastern congressmen to legislate in the interest of their sections. The national forestry service and the forestry commission have worked out a program for the lake states which has not been carried out because mid-western congressmen were less energetic in supporting the government's projects for their regions. The projects had equal validity, but the congressmen from the middle west were no match for the congressmen from other sections.

Many representatives from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and other mid-western states have taken no interest in the matter because none of the lands which the government wished to acquire lay within their states. Nothing could point more clearly to the fact that our congressmen do not know what the real interests of the great central valley are. Only a few of our representatives seem aware of the fact that the woodworking industries are among the most important in the middle west. Chicago has more woodworking factories than any other city in the country and is the center of a large number of cities whose principal industries are the manufacture of wooden articles. Among them are Grand Rapids and Rockford. These industries are located where they are because of proximity to the consuming market, but also because not so long ago this section lay close to the forests. The forests have all but disappeared and our congressmen seem to think it makes no difference whether the government undertakes reforestation hereabouts. The middle west, so far as they are concerned, may pay increasingly heavy freight bills for hauling lumber from the south and west while millions of acres of cut over and burnt over lands, good for nothing but growing trees, lie idle a few hundred miles to the north.

The situation calls attention anew to the need for a mid-western chamber of commerce. We need an organization which will bring together the leaders of agriculture, banking, industry, commerce and transportation of this section with a view to developing an economic program which our congressmen can use as a guide. Our congressmen are too narrow in their outlook. They need the advice, instruction and encouragement which an organization of the leading figures in the economic life of the middle west could give.

DR. ROBERTSON'S OPPORTUNITY.

Dr. John Dill Robertson has been reelected president of the west park board. In Dr. Robertson's last administration a program of permanent improvements was drawn up calling for an expenditure of $15,000,000. These improvements, while by no means supplying all the traffic arteries and recreation facilities needed by the west side, who must also approve the loans, to their importance. Dr. Robertson, under whose administration the improvements were planned, has earned the right to carry them into effect.

SALM IS VIRTUALLY FOOT LOOSE.

Paris reports that Millicent Rogers has been granted a divorce and Count Salm a separation. The amount of the separation has been estimated at $300,000, but Mr. Rogers has not confirmed it and it was understood that the count was holding out for a half million if he were to make the American family an unqualified present of a son of his blood. In another aspect of the separation it is explained that the count as an Austrian nobleman would not have a divorce recognized by his church. It is understood that the Rogers family is willing to consider the incident closed with such separation as the count has been able to apply to the bank roll.

In the usual American enterprises of this character there has been a preference for Plantagenet blood. We have accepted the British peer as superior to anything continental, but of late there is such an infusion of soap, beer, whisky, patent medicines, printer's ink, etc., in the strain that it may be losing its purity. "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" may also have taken something out of the British peerage by mixing it up with the butter and egg business. All this considered, or even conceded, it is probable that the general American preference would be for the Plantagenets if they can date back farther than the most recent election and resulting honor list.

As the continental titles go, Salm was well enough. He did not pretend to be more than he was. He did not say he was a Mortimer. There may be a little mortification in the Rogers family, but it is doubtless an investment which will improve with time.

Although Salm cannot be regarded as divorced in Austria, it is not indicated that he will offer himself again in Austria. It is understood that he is eligible in America if he can get by Ellis Island again. That trap for the unwary may catch him. It has many. Or Mr. Mellon may want Uncle Sam's slice of his American income. It would be probably taxable, particularly if Mr. Rogers has scheduled it as a gift to an educational or charitable institution or as a business loss.

THE U. S. AND LOCAL POLICE DUTY.

President Coolidge was asked to call a national conference for the consideration of the American problem of crime and law enforcement. His judgment was against it and he did not do so, explaining that the question was local and not national and should be handled by communities and states. Some good might result from a gathering of persons interested in getting the American record down to what might be accepted as a civilized normal. For one thing it would indicate interest and might increase it. In some respects it is an interstate problem. The crooks travel and may live in one city and operate in another. New York thinks it is getting some relief because the habitual criminal act is driving out criminals. Some other community, in that case, is getting them. Nevertheless the problem is one of local police power.

This power has been taken over in so many instances by the intervention of the federal government that people are not thinking of their conditions as subject to their own will, decision and action, but as to be corrected and controlled by agencies from above or without.

That is an escape of responsibility which is not consistent with the principles of local government. A national conference might be beneficial in an interchange of ideas and suggestions if it did not further the thought that a community must rely on something other than itself to get the ordered state of society it wants and needs. That consideration evidently was in the President's mind. He has said on several occasions that localities must depend upon themselves and not increase the federal government activities.

Self dependence is the proper state of mind and whatever tends to increase it is sound policy.

WE HAVE HABITUAL CRIMINALS, TOO.

The New York legislature has added to the rigor of the Baumes laws. These are the statutes dealing with habitual criminals. They do not prevent the showing of leniency to first offenders but they bear with increasing severity upon those found guilty of subsequent felonies. After a fourth conviction, the judge is obliged to sentence the prisoner to life imprisonment.

There has been agitation for similar laws in Illinois. The state senate has proposals along the lines of the New York laws under consideration, and reports from the capital indicate they are attracting unusual attention. There is a growing appreciation throughout the country that our criminal codes take insufficient account of habitual criminality. Practically all the spectacular crimes, the train holdups, bank robberies, and pay roll raids are the work of hardened criminals. Even if they are caught, tried, found guilty, and sentenced they are frequently released all too soon on parole.

The Baumes laws leave little room for discretion on the part of judges and parole boards and therefore have met with some opposition. Judges feel that their prerogatives have been taken from them. If this is so, it is the inevitable result of too much leniency in the past. The criminals have been allowed to get all the breaks. Our criminal code gives every protection to the man in jeopardy. Repeated appeals are granted to the prisoner after he is found guilty. Paroles have been granted to men who were almost certain to use their liberty to continue lives of crime. The Baumes laws are a recognition of the fact that the hardened criminal is a reality which must be dealt with. Society has found no cure for criminality and its only protection, therefore, is to place the habitual felon behind bars and keep him there.

Editorial of the Day

CHURCH AND STATE.

(The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen)

Senator Bruce of Maryland delivered a stern rebuke to the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, which has its headquarters in Washington, where its officers are watching congress and congressmen and their actions on legislation in which that church is interested. In his address to the senate Senator Bruce charged that that board was a political agency, and that its activities were pernicious.

Naturally officials of the church have protested against the charge, and denied that it was true. In the language of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board: "We think we have the right to petition and the right to agitate and make sentiment and organize sentiment, for we pay taxes, we are citizens and are a branch of the church of Christ whose duty it is to furnish the moral sanctions of civil government. Those rights are exercised by the liquor interests, by labor and capital, pacifists, and the war party. Why not the Christian temperance forces of the United States?"

These words we quote from a letter written to the Moody Bible Institute Monthly in reply to an editorial in that great Christian paper endorsing the position of Senator Bruce. In answer to this catalogue of "rights" the Monthly well says: "The church has a very different origin from any and all of these, and in our way of thinking, moves in another sphere." In another place the Monthly also truly says: "When the church seeks to influence political action in the way now under consideration, she stands in her own light and awakens a prejudice against herself which makes it harder to reach men with the gospel of salvation"; which, in fact, is the church's only reason for existence on earth. Organized Protestantism "has now set an example to Catholics which she will not be slow to take advantage of when the time comes, in which Protestantism is sowing the wind and will reap the whirlwind."

These are weighty words. The south should consider them carefully. The great southern Methodist church has a similar board to that of the northern Methodist church, also sitting in Washington with one of its bishops, as fine a political as ever lived, so it is said for him, at the head of it. The church has appropriated out of its treasury the sum of $10,000 per annum, we learn, to finance this board. This was but the entering wedge. Soon it will be double and triple and even larger, and soon the great southern church, which has stood for conservatism, unless checked by the wisdom of the past, will be as deep in politics as the northern, though the policy of the church from its foundation has been opposition to that. From such a course the whole south is bound to suffer harm.

Chicago, April 10.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—An agent came to my door selling hose and I placed an order for six dollars' worth with him.

The agent did not send the order in and was never seen again. I took my receipt to the firm, but they would not give me the money or the hose. Is there anything can be done about this?

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

BERLIN, April 14.—Germany is doomed to become a country of old maids instead of old-fashioned housewives bustling around and raising children. Germany now has 1,750,000 more women than men between the ages of 21 and 45. In all there are 12,500,000 women between these ages, of which actually 5,500,000 still are unmarried, while

750,000 bachelors are struggling desperately to save their liberty.

CALCUTTA, April 14.—An extraordinary accident occurred at Mysore, a suburb of Madras, re-birds' legs. One of the birds leaped in the air and one of the knives struck a 4 year old child. The knife entered the child's heart, death being instantaneous.

ANOTHER OPINION ON T-B CONTAGION.

LAST week we gave some observations by Maher and Rosman to the effect that consumption was not very contagious, particularly among adults. Some suggestions which grew out of these observations and opinions were that we should fight dusty air as the paramount means of controlling consumption; that we could relax the quarantines of adult consumptives, and, finally, that children who react to tuberculosis could be allowed around adult consumptives with reasonable safety.

Here are some recent observations and opinions which are almost diametrically opposite to those of Drs. Maher and Rosman. We should consider both opinions before deciding what course to pursue.

Dr. Opie and his associates say their studies have definitely shown that "latent tuberculosis is transmitted both to children and to adults. Though in most instances it is hidden, it not infrequently produces manifest disease."

This, put in a simpler way, means that both children and grown people who are infected for long times become infected. As a rule, the infection does not go as far as causing what is known as consumption.

"Enough to show they can do it," my informant answered. "I am satisfied that Gallego's action in holding up the train near Oregon last week marked the beginning of the rebel activity in this direction."

"What good would holding up a train do if the rebels cannot hold the strategic points?"

"It keeps the government troops moving and on an anxious seat and creates uneasiness all over the country," he told me. "We propose to produce so many of these bands as to make policing the country by the military impossible."

"But if you cannot hold the strategic points what good will this do the rebel cause?" was my next question.

"We aim to bring about a time and condition that will enable us to hold the towns and strategic points," he answered.

"When do you think that time will come?"

"It may not be for many months," he replied. "We have to continue stirring up the people, organizing and sending circulars, missionaries, and agitators into all the mountainous districts, keeping the federal army at bay meantime. But I am told this is being done."

"Why begin attacks on trains when, as you admit, the insurgents are not prepared to hold the towns?" I asked.

"It seems useless to waste the energy, especially as I have been told that the rebel leaders have forbidden the looting of passengers."

"They keep nearly all children who are in homes where there is a case of consumption. husbands are apt to catch consumption from their infected wives, and vice versa. One-half of all the exposed become infected."

He thinks nearly all children who are in homes where there is a case of consumption are in considerable danger. He also places considerable value as signs on pictures which show heavy shadows behind the breast bone a little above the nipple level.

Again giving considerable weight to X-ray shadows, he thinks husbands are more apt to catch consumption from their infected wives, and vice versa. One-half of all the exposed become infected."

MRS. CARRINGTON GRANTED DIVORCE CHARGES DROPPED

Financial Settlement Is Reached Out of Court.

Mrs. Anna Walsh Snyder Carrington receives her divorce.

Col. Edward Codrington Carrington doesn't lose his money.

And both of them, legally, keep their reputations.

The "everybody win" decision in the Carrington case was the result of an eleven hour conference which terminated yesterday morning in Judge George Fred Rush's courtroom when attorneys for the colonel and his wife, each of whom was seriously seeking freedom, informed the court that some mutually satisfactory arithmetical sums had been done, and that both parties were willing to drop their supplemental charges of infidelity.

Wins on Cruelty Charge.

Mrs. Carrington, by a decree that was entered shortly thereafter, won her divorce on her original charge, that of cruelty, as proved in two instances.

But she did not receive the $300,000 settlement for which she had earlier been fighting.

The colonel, who by terms of the agreement stood on his original divorce bill charging his wife with desertion, lost the technical side of the case, but won his freedom, and it is reported, retains a goodly share of the $300,000.

All parties to the suit declined to comment upon the monetary part of the agreement, except to insist that it was highly satisfactory. Met with an early, vague report that the colonel's wife had been awarded $100,000, a friend of Col. Carrington said, "Strike off that last zero, and you'll be near the real thing." Later and apparently authentic grapevine rumors placed the sum in the neighborhood of $10,000. Attestor Paulus Koenig, counsel for the colonel, declined to discuss the settlement.

Counsel Declines to Comment.

Nor would Attorney George L. Stein, counsel for Mrs. Carrington, make any statement.

The bitterness of the days of testimony tapered off into a more or less trivial revision of the Carrington family in court records. The colonel harbored a smile in the direction of his brother, Campbell, whom he had named as co-respondent until the agreement deleted that part of the bill.

Mrs. Carrington, with her daughter, Elinor Snyder, shook hands with Attorney Koenig and thanked him for his chivalry. It was unofficially but definitely stated that the colonel had dropped his suit against his brother for alienation of his wife's affections.

CHAPLIN MUST FIGHT OR DEFAULT SUIT IN FOUR DAYS

Los Angeles, Cal., April 14.—[Special]—Charles Chaplin must either fight or default his wife's divorce suit in the next four days as the result of Judge Edwin Hahn's ruling today. Judge Hahn denied the plea of Chaplin's lawyers to quash the wife's summons by publicity.

Loyd Wright, local attorney for Chaplin, said the proper steps in Chaplin's protection will be taken Monday. Whether Chaplin's move will be an answer or a cross complaint Wright refused to reveal.

May Appeal Ruling.

New York, April 14.—An appeal may be taken from the ruling of Judge Hahn, Nathan Burkman, Chaplin's counsel intimated tonight.

Attorney General Arthur K. Read, in response to a request by Speaker John C. Hull, had expressed the opinion that the sole power of pardon and review was lodged with the governor under the state constitution and that adoption of the resolution would create a precedent of the house attempting to review the acts of the

SOLONS REFUSE SACCO-VANZETTI TRIAL INQUIRY

Boston, Mass., April 14.—(UPI)—By a rising vote of 6 to 146 the Massachusetts house of representatives today refused to suspend the rules and consider the resolution of Rep. Roland D. Sawyer for the appointment of a commission to investigate the case of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

Sacco and Vanzetti, convicted of the murder of a paymaster at South Braintree, Mass., seven years ago, are sentenced to die July 15.

"I do not know just what the next step will be," Burkman said, "but an appeal from the ruling would be in order. Mr. Chaplin's attorneys in Los Angeles are in charge of that phase of the case. They will decide what will be done."

Law Students Ask Clemency.

A petition from 205 members of the graduating class of Harvard law school, asking executive clemency for Sacco and Vanzetti, will be presented to Gov. Fuller tomorrow.

The faculty of the law school, it was stated, assumed no responsibility for the petition which represented the consensus of more than two-thirds of the class.

"A new trial should be given on the basis of the newly discovered evidence," the petition says.

Gov. Alvan T. Fuller's mail today, as on other days this week, was made up largely of letters concerning the sentencing of Sacco and Vanzetti. Sentiments of the writers were mixed, some pleading for executive clemency or further investigation, and others urging the governor not to be swayed by appeals from sympathizers. Among the former was one from the young women students of Barnard college.

The manifesto concludes: "We share with the condemned men the hope that their fate will be decided definitely for either death, which would make them martyrs of liberty."

U. S. COMPLETES DEAL FOR FIELD POSTOFFICE SITE

Agrees to Pay Owners
$3,890,000.

Chicago Tribune Press Service.
Washington, D. C., April 14.—(Special)—Chicago's new postoffice will be built on the Marshall Field site located at Canal, Harrison, Clinton and Paul streets.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Dewey announced today that an agreement has been reached with Marshall Field & Co. which will result in the government acquiring their property for $3,890,000. The government will pay for the property and take over the site as soon as the necessary legal investigation of the title has been made, Mr. Dewey said.

Pay $17 per Square Foot.

The price to be paid by the government nets $17.33 per square foot for the 224,451 square feet of property owned by Marshall Field & Co. The Field holdings comprise 88 per cent of the site needed for the new post office. The balance of the property is owned by W. J. Mayer company and negotiations for its purchase are already under way.

Mr. Dewey said that due to the failure of the second $100,000,000 building bill in the closing hours of the senate filibuster, it will be impossible to begin actual construction until after congress meets and passes another bill carrying additional appropriations for public buildings. All the money appropriated by the first bill has been allocated, he said.

Reach Delivery Agreement.

The decision to purchase the Field site was reached after postal officials had made an agreement with C. G. Burnham, chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago terminal committee, regarding the delivery of all mail from the Union station to and from the new postoffice. The agreement provides that the postal officials will unload and load all mail for the railroads operating from that station.

Frank E. McMillin, superintendent of postoffice quarters and engineering, said that when the new postoffice is completed, Chicago will have one of the finest postal buildings in the world. It will result in quicker service for the middle west, he declared.

OLD IRONSIDES' CHICAGO VOYAGE FOUND FEASIBLE

Redouble Efforts to Fill Quota and Save Frigate.

Chicago started to demonstrate yesterday that there is purpose to her plan that Old Ironsides be brought here.

A double drive was started to fill—and more than fill—Chicago's quota of the cost of reconditioning the racing hull of the Constitution and to obtain a promise from the navy department that the historic frigate will be sent on a voyage to Chicago.

Returning to her post as chairman of the local "Save Old Ironsides" committee after a severe illness, Mrs. Grace Scherwin grasped the straw that was offered in Secretary of the Navy Wilbur's intimation that the Constitution might be shown to Chicagoans.

Wives Wilbur and Admiral.

She sent two telegrams, one to Secretary Wilbur and another to Rear Admiral Phillip Andrews, chairman of the national committee. "Save Old Ironsides" fund, asking by how much Chicago need increase her share of the fund to insure that the old ship might be brought to Chicago.

Anticipating that there might be some difficulty in bringing Old Ironsides through the St. Lawrence river, she asked the opinion of E. James Fuksick, a dredge and dock engineer who has been aboard and studied the Constitution. Mr. Fuksick replied that there should be little difficulty in bringing the ship inland if she were unweighted at the most shallow points. This morning he will submit a report of the prospective route by which the Constitution would be brought to the great lakes. Mrs. Scherwin said that Mr. Fuksick was the first contributor to the fund for restoring the famous ship in Illinois.

Sends Appeal for Funds.

With only a small part of Chicago's quota subscribed, Mrs. Scherwin took steps to swell the amount. She began sending telegrams to the leaders, asking them to subscribe substantially to the fund, and she hopes that by Memorial day the city will have over-subscribed its share.

Among the men to whom appeals were sent yesterday were D. F. Kelly, Frank O. Wetmore, Rufus W. Abbott, Julius Rosenwald, James Simpson, Col. A. A. Sprague, Charles Markham, George W. Dixon, Martin A. Ryerson, Stanley Field, and James Patten.

The Marshall Field company is taking an active part in the fund campaign to fill Chicago's quota and bring Old Ironsides here. A copy of the oil painting of the frigate has been framed and put on display on the third floor of the store.

The work of restoring the Constitution, which is now in the Charleston Navy yard, is scheduled to start on May 31. Only a little more than half the required fund of $800,000 has been subscribed to date.

Mrs. Scherwin places an educational campaign to bring home to Chicagoans the old frigate's significance in the nation's history.

"If it were not for the valiant sea victories of the United States Constitution," she quoted Gen. Pershing as saying, "the United States might not exist today."

The idea of an indissoluble union and naval expansion, Admiral Andrews believes, dates from the time of the magnificent record of the Constitution during the war of 1812. The capture of the British ships, Guerriere, Java, Peacock, and Levant, broke the tradition of British supremacy on the seas.

Once Queen of the Seas.

In the early nineteenth century Old Ironsides, with its large amount of sail, heavy battery, and hull lines similar to those of modern racing yachts, was considered the proudest ship of the sea.

Besides her technical perfection she has significant associations. The ship's copper bolts and sheathing were made by Paul Revere and she carried the first flag of 15 stars and 15 stripes made by Betsy Ross.

Old Ironsides, commissioned in 1794, saw active service until 1855. From 1861 until 1870 the Constitution served as a Naval academy training ship. In 1879 she was taken to the Paris exhibition, and in 1882 was the receiving ship at the Portsmouth navy yard. Her last official appearance was at the centennial of her launching in 1897 in Boston.

TRAFFIC EXPERTS DEMAND JAIL FOR VICIOUS DRIVERS

Anti-Parking Unpopular as Dry Law, They Say.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Promotion of automobile parking in busy business districts, like the Volstead law, can never be fully enforced, and traffic accidents will continue unabated until laws with teeth and jail sentences for vicious drivers stop recklessness of cars.

The conclusions offered by nationally recognized experts in the automobile traffic field were principles of great importance brought out in the closing session yesterday of the city traffic conference, held in the Palmer House under auspices of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, and attended by traffic authorities from a score of leading American cities.

Conferees round up their meeting by taking the House Conference of street and highway safety to the national adoption of uniform caution and direction signs. They also recommended that every city in the country make an immediate study of its individual traffic problems and join in making driving laws uniform and practical from one end of the country to the other.

Urge "Automobile Hotels."

H. R. Peabody, treasurer of Detroit Garages, Inc., told of his personal experience with parking prohibition in seven of the largest cities, and recommended the building of "automobile hotels" in traffic congested districts to relieve the roadways.

To forbid parking in business districts is like the prohibition law—it's not self-enforcing, such as boulevard and through street stop regulations. So few can actually be caught and fined for parking violations, that to park overtime and in forbidden spots is a thrilling gamble for most people.

In business districts where there is a complete ban on parking, no cars other than chauffeur driven machines and trucks are allowed, and shoppers are inclined to avoid the district.

"Building of big downtown garages will not take parked cars off the street itself, but in limited parking districts such garages can be made to pay if they offer every service needed by the motorist. Less than 47 per cent of the garage revenue comes from storage charges, but with good mechanics and careful work automobile hotels can make a profit."

Judge Raps Careless Drivers.

Judge Charles L. Bartlett, Detroit's dry traffic law enforcer, called for national hard boiled enforcement to stop death.

"Less than one-half of one per cent of automobile accidents are unavoidable," he declared. "The vast majority are not accidents in the true sense of the word, but carelessness, cussed-

BLAMES MASONIC ORDER FOR PLOT TO MURDER DUCE

Grand Orient Master Put Up Funds, Witness Says

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, April 14.—That the Masonic Grand Orient lodge is on trial before the Italian military tribunal created by the safety of state act became apparent today when the witness for the prosecution of former Deputy Tito Zaniboni for the attempted assassination of Premier Mussolini took the stand, and made sensational charges against Grand Master Donatello Torrigiana and other high officials of the order.

The witness was Carlo Quaglia, a former reporter of the Il Lavoro. His statements implicating officials of the Grand Orient lodges, if supported by other testimony, probably will result in the arrest and trial of Sig. Torrigiana. It was reported today that the grand master of the Grand Orient already has left Rome.

Acted as Fascist Spy.
Sig. Quaglia was arrested at the same time as Sig. Zaniboni on a charge of complicity in the plot. A few days later he was released when he turned state's evidence. He testified that he acted as go-between for Sig. Zaniboni and Gen. Capello, ostensibly as an accomplice, but really as a Fascist spy. When asked why he failed to notify the authorities, he said he wanted to be certain that the attempt would be made on the life of Premier Mussolini.

At this point the witness was interrupted by Sig. Zaniboni, who asserted that Sig. Quaglia had demanded the honor of firing the second shot.

Accuses Masonic Order.

Sig. Quaglia several times mentioned Sig. Torrigiana as a source of funds for Sig. Zaniboni's confessed attempt. Gen. Capello acted as the agent who handed out the funds, he said. On the night before the attempt, Sig. Zaniboni had given Sig. Quaglia to Gen. Capello with a demand for 4,000 lire ($360), said Sig. Quaglia.

Gen. Capello, he said, replied, "That person"—meaning Sig. Torrigiana—still was away from Rome, and it was impossible to produce the money. Furthermore, Gen. Capello is said to have advised Sig. Zaniboni to postpone the attempt.

Sig. Quaglia testified that he knew the Masonic order had financed subversive movements in Italy to the extent of several hundred thousand lire, and that Sig. Torrigiana handed out all this money.

A. W. GOODRICH, NEW COMMISSIONER, LONG A DEVOTED FIRE FAN

When Mayor Thompson and Albert W. Goodrich were small boys, they used to run away from home to watch fire. Which explains in large measure the appointment yesterday of Mr. Goodrich as the new fire commissioner of Chicago.

Commissioneer Goodrich, whose wealth is rated high, is one of the enthusiastic of the city's fire fans. He has attended every big blaze in the city as well as the captains, lieutenants, pipemen, and engineers call him AL.

His favorite hangout years ago was at the headquarters of engine company No. 13, on Dearborn street, near Lake.

Formerly president and chairman of the board of the Goodrich Transit company, owners of lake boats, Mr. Goodrich is a member of the Saddle and Cycle and Chicago Golf clubs. He lives at 942 Lake Shore drive.

"I want to give the loop better fire," he said yesterday, "by quartering more companies in the district. The present districting seems antiquated. And I want to see if we can't get some better fire houses with more comfortable quarters for the men. If possible, I'd like to have tall buildings erected on the engine house sites and rent the upper floors for offices. This would add considerably to the city's revenues."

15 LEADERS SEE NO THIRD TERM BAR TO COOLIDGE

8 from States That Vote Democratic.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 14.—[Special.]—The "third term" issue will not be a serious factor against the renomination or reelection of President Coolidge in 1928, according to the opinions of fifteen members of the Republican national committee, quoted today by the Washington Evening Star.

A questionnaire was addressed to all the members of the committee by this newspaper. The responses by the fifteen committeemen are the first to be published. They were from Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Jersey, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

The questions were whether another term of office for President Coolidge would constitute a third term as the phrase generally is understood; whether the third term issue would be a serious obstacle, either to the nomination or reelection of the President and whether President Coolidge is the logical candidate of the Republican party in 1928.

Without exception the fifteen, whose replies were published today, strongly favored the renomination of the President, and insisted that the third term issue ought not to affect the situation.

FAIL TO AGREE ON PAY RAISE FOR MUSICIANS

Officials of the Chicago Federation of Musicians conferred yesterday with representatives of the Chicago Symphony Orchestral association, still disagreeing on the union demands for wage increases.

The union asks $100 instead of $80 a week for 78 members of the orchestra and $75 instead of $65 a week for the other 12. The increase would total approximately $60,000 a year. James Petrillo represented the union, the association being represented by Horace Oakley, W. O. Goodman, Augustus S. Peabody, J. J. Gleason, and H. E. Vogell. They oppose a raise on the ground that the orchestra has an annual deficit.

ILLINOIS IN LINE FOR RECIPROCAL INHERITANCE TAX

House Passes Measure; Adjourn for Election.

Springfield, Ill., April 14.—[Special] After the lower house had passed the bill and the senate three, the Illinois general assembly recessed to-day for another long week-end. Down state elections next Tuesday caused adjournment until Wednesday.

Cited among the measures to gain the house's approval was the bill introduced by Representative Michael J. Iggy of Chicago, minority leader, which would add Illinois to the list of states having reciprocal inheritance tax laws.

The bill provides, in substance, that Illinois will not tax the intangible property of nonresident decedents who at the time of their death lived in states not having an inheritance tax which grant reciprocity.

That the McCarthy bill, to require the licensing and regulation of public accountants by the state department of registration, will precipitate a warm session on the floor of the house became more apparent today. Representative Frank A. McCarthy of Elgin, the bill's proponent, created a stir when he, in a point of personal privilege, and others in the House, criticizing the bill, sent out by John W. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, was "knowingly and viciously" full of "lying and false" statements.

DISARM PARLEY ADJOURS; COMES TO NO AGREEMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service] GENEVA, April 14.—Adjourning for the Easter holidays until April 21, the League of nations preparatory disarmament commission today left the way open for possible intergovernmental negotiations when invited not to change the status quo, and neglected to finish the first reading of the proposed disarmament treaty.

Attention now is turning to the Cologne disarmament conference in June and the announcement that Japan will send at least fifty delegates

AGED MAN AND WOMAN KILLED BY AUTOMOBILES

Automobile accidents caused three deaths yesterday, boosting the county's 1927 death toll to 235.

Mrs. Josephine Herbert, 55 years old, 1447 South Kezar avenue, was instantly killed as she was struck by a truck while crossing Sixty-third street at Kolin avenue. The driver, Henry Miller, 2127 West Fifteenth place, was held.

Michael O'Connor, 25 years old, a municipal garage employee, was fatally injured when he was struck at Jackson and Belmont, and 51st and Laramie avenues by a car driven by August Sternberg, 5022 West Twenty-first street.

James Davis, 61 years old, 504 West Sixty-second street, died at St. Bernard's hospital, from injuries suffered Jan. 26 when he was struck by an automobile at Englewood avenue and Normal boulevard. The Englewood police are seeking the driver of the automobile.

Possible means of reducing grade crossings, accidents such as have recently taken four lives in Cook county this week will be the principal subject before the annual meeting of the safety section of the American Railway association, next Tuesday at the Palmer house.

BLANK CARTERIDGE KILLS BOY. Blood poisoning that developed after he ingested powder burns from a blank cartridge on April 4 caused the death yesterday of Angelo Tampioli, 12 years old, 724 Oakdale avenue.

REED DECLARES TOBACCO FARMER DIDN'T RUN CO-OP

Says 17 of 22 Directors
Were Not Planters.

Detroit, Mich., April 14.—(AP)—Today's sessions of Aaron Sapiro's $1,000 libel suit against Henry Ford, the last until next Monday, were devoted to a defense effort to show that 17 of the 22 directors of the Kentucky Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative association, organized by Sapiro, were warehousemen and not planters.

Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford counsel, finally reached his objective late in the day when he asked:

"Isn't it a fact that 15 of the 22 directors were financially interested in warehouses?"

Sapiro Combats Reed.

"I don't believe it is a fact," re-turned Sapiro.

"The interest of James Stone of Lexington was very large."

"Perhaps."

"And the interests of a number of others was very large!"

"I question that strongly; I don't believe it."

Senator Reed ran down the list of names, including those of William Simms, Christy Walters, James Kehoe, Frank R. Nunnelley, John B. Winn, E. B. Gaines, Ralph Barker, J. F. Jones, Carroll D. Asbury, Bush W. Allen, J. G. Cradock, R. Penn Taylor and William Collins, asking of each if he was not a warehouseman.

Interested in Warehouses.

Sapiro's invariable answer was that the man named primarily was a grower but as a business man might have been interested in tobacco ware-houses.

"Pretty nearly everybody in Kentucky was interested in warehouses," Sapiro said at one point.

Judge Robert W. Birmingham, publisher of the Louisville Courier Journal and the Louisville Times, was listed as not a grower but a member of the board representing the public.

Senator Reed sought to show that the warehouse men headed the cooperative to prove a statement made early in the cross-examination of Sapiro that he was trying to show that Sapiro by his own admission practiced as a lawyer and alienated fees which he alleged were lost because of articles printed in Ford's magazine.

Three of Sapiro's thirteen days under cross-examination have been de-

SUIT SEEKS TO LINK PASTOR TO ALLEGED REAL ESTATE FRAUD

Rallies Missionaries for "Fundamentals."

BY JOHN POWELL
[Chicago Tribune Free Service]

SHANGHAI, April 14.—A diversion from Chinese politics is likely to be provided next week when a group of American missionaries calling themselves fundamentalists will stage a meeting to launch an attack on the national Christian council on the grounds that the council is taking too liberal an attitude respecting Christianity.

The trial was taken into the Superior court in behalf of Helen Golden, 8 years old, by her guardian, Richard Zimmerman. The suit claims an interest in the property for the girl as heir of former owners.

The bill sets up that the late Mrs. Metcalf Golden, the girl's mother, was induced to sign a deed of conveyance to "Henry Egloff of Riverside," in 1926, while she was mentally disturbed and physically depressed by domestic troubles. Further, it was well known that the girl was taking too liberal a view of Christian mission work in China and has been working among missionaries of all faiths, it is said, trying to stir up a revolt against the national Christian council, the central organization in Shanghai.

Fundamentalists to Meet.

Mr. Strother has just announced a public meeting of the fundamentalists to attack the modernists. It is scheduled for next Tuesday. The announcement is causing considerable local interest.

The Rev. James H. Franklin, foreign secretary of the American Baptist Missionary society of New York, now in China investigating the situation, told THE TRIBUNE correspondent that those who return will act in an advisory capacity, rather than as managers, he is firmly convinced that the future of China offers great opportunities for Christian work, for the Chinese Christians now are forced to stand on their own feet, thereby strengthening the institution through "fiery trials."

"This is not the end of Christian missionary work in China," he said.

"I believe that the Chinese Christian church will emerge from the crisis stronger than ever. History has shown that the church of Christ thrives under persecution."

$500,000 BLAZE RAZES WAUKEGAN PLANT; QUIZ ON

Fire apparatus from North Chicago and Great Lakes was rushed to Waukegan early last night when a $500,000 fire destroyed the clothing manufacturing plant of Granert & Rothschild on Lake View avenue. Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle immediately launched an investigation into the cause of the blaze.

Several months ago the garment workers employed by Granert & Rothschild were called out on a strike by officers of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' union. There have been frequent clashes between the strikers and nonunion clothing makers. Recently Sheriff Doolittle assumed charge of policing the strike zone.

Howard Granert, son of the owner, was repairing his automobile near the plant when the fire broke out on the second floor of the two story building. When the first company of Waukegan firemen arrived the building was enveloped in flames. Granert estimated the loss of the building at $100,000 and the contents at $400,000, both of which he said, are partially insured.

CHARGES BRIBE OFFER IN INDIANA SCANDAL INQUIRY

Ask Discharge of Marion County Grand Jury.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—(Special)—Charging efforts had been made to influence a grand jury by bribery to vote against indicting Mayor John L. Duvall of Indianapolis, Prosecuting Attorney Will H. Remy of Marion county today filed a motion in Criminal court asking that the grand jury be discharged and a new jury called. Remy's plea was based on an affidavit made by Claude A. Achey, a member of the jury, in which he asserted he had been approached by James Armitage, brother of William H. Armitage, Republican political leader, with an offer of $2,000 in cash and a job if he would refuse to vote for an indictment of the mayor in the event the latter came to a vote.

The motion was taken under advisement by Judge James A. Collins, who excused the grand jury until Monday.

Armitage Denies Charges.

James Armitage later denied Achey's charges. Armitage appeared before the grand jury as a witness shortly before Remy made his motion. Remy declared that Achey had accused the accuser against Armitage in the presence of the grand jurors and that "as a result thereof, distrust and suspicion are likely to arise among the grand jurors."

Achey did not state whether the job which he said was offered to him was a city position. He said the $2,000 was to have been paid to him as an indication of "good faith," to prove he would get the job. He was to have received the job the first Monday after adjournment of the grand jury, he told Achey. Achey said he was told by James Armitage to vote against an indictment of Duvall, "regardless of what the evidence might be, whether legal or just."

Achey in his sworn statement declared that James Armitage told him "there will be other members of the grand jury to go with you," and later informed him two other members of the jury would stick with him.

Claude Duvall Knew of It.

Armitage further told him, Achey said, that he was the representative of Duvall in the matter. Duvall was out of the city today, having gone to Chicago, it was announced, regarding a new newspaper he plans to start here. A new political alignment between Duvall and William H. Armitage has been evident the last few weeks, politicians declare, although they were formerly political enemies.

A transcript of the testimony heard by the 1926 fall jury which adjourned without returning indictments, was turned over to the present jury by Judge Collins on March 15. The name of Mayor Duvall is said to have figured prominently in the investigation and it is said that the jury has spent most of its time in recent days investigating Duvall, prior to his election, made certain political promises.

One of the outstanding assertions investigated by the former jury was the allegation by Thomas H. Adams, chairman of the probe committee of the Indiana Republican Editors' association, that Duvall entered into a contract with D. G. Stephenson, whereby it was alleged Stephenson was to make certain important appointments in case Duvall was elected. Duvall denied the charge and said the document exhibited by Adams, which purported to be a photograph of the alleged contract.

The autumn grand jury spent more than three months in the investigation. Although the jury failed to return an indictment, it already recommended that the investigation be continued.

3 Months' Old Baby Delays Mother's Trial for Frauds

Mrs. Grace Greenberg's three month old baby yesterday saved her from going to trial at this time on a charge of having cashed 21 checks with forged endorsements. Judge William V. Brothers continued the case until the baby could be sent to the care of a mother's care taker. The judge refused to consider probation because of the number of checks involved. Mrs. Greenberg lives at 1927 North Winchester avenue.

Electric Fixtures Bring New Beauty to the Home

A WELL-LIGHTED home—a beautiful home. How easy it is to join the two. And both are associated with adequate wiring. Given this, the individual taste of the home owner can express itself as fancy dictates or convenience suggests.

The value of a well-lighted home as a health factor, apart from considerations of convenience, is universally recognized. It conserves the eyesight, soothes the nerves, elevates the spirits and promotes happiness and well-being.

The field of electric fixtures is so wide, so much ingenuity has been given to the creation of unique and beautiful designs that no home need be without their decorative effect. Whatever the style of furnishings—however simple or elaborate—there are fixtures that perfectly harmonize.

It may be a rose or amber shaded bridge light in the living room, or wall brackets supplementing the candelabra in the center. The decorative touch of a floor lamp, with silk or parchment shade—the dainty designs in portables—offer a wide range of choice.

The dining room, sun porch, bedroom, nursery, hall and entrance provide an inviting opportunity to unite beauty to utility. However modest the home, good taste can be served and a note of cheer introduced by well-placed fixtures.

Where the home, apartment house or flat are adequately wired—up to Red Seal specifications—the decorative lighting ceases to be a problem. Every facility is provided for satisfying the individual taste, or preserving an exquisite harmony between the fixtures and furnishings.

EMPLOYMENT ON UPWARD TREND ALL OVER THE U.S.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Washington, D. C., April 14.—(Special)—Industrial conditions throughout the country are favorable, the United States employment service reports.

Improvement in March.

While there was a general improvement in employment during March, however, the increase was not as large as expected. Inclement weather in practically every state interfered with outdoor activities. "The major industries operated on satisfactory schedules in most instances, and several increased their forces during the month," the report states.

The outlook for April is bright. Increased operations and employment are expected in the larger industries. In Illinois a preliminary survey of 500 firms showed a slight upward trend for March. Only four of the chief cities of the state—Chicago, Aurora, Joliet, and Springfield—did not share in the improvement.

Bump in Chicago.

Regarding Chicago, the report says: "The slight decrease in manufacturing employment during March can be attributed to the definite downward trend in meat packing activities. This is the beginning of the usual seasonal slump and will continue for some months."

"Several of the packing plants laid off over 100 men, and one had 500 fewer workers in March than in February.

"Iron and steel plants made slight gains, as did also vehicle manufacturers. Job printing firms are making the usual seasonal reductions in their forces, as are also the men's clothing firms."

"Building is increasing permits issued during the first two weeks of March valued at $27,015,715."

KILLED HIMSELF WITH POISON.

William Manley, 43 years old, swallowed poison yesterday at his home, supposedly with suicide intent. He died a short time after at the Lutheran Memorial hospital.

SACASA REBELS IN FULL FLIGHT, LATIMER REPORTS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Washington officials are taking a much more encouraging view of the Nicaraguan situation as a result of reports from Admiral Latimer who says the liberals have diminished to about 500 men and are far from being a threat.

"Over 200 were killed in the battle of April 10 and 11," he said. "Ninety thousand rounds of ammunition, along with rifles, seven machine guns and three field pieces, were captured by the conservative forces. In anticipation of their retreat, the revolutionaries forced themselves into buildings that they might be kept from falling into the hands of the enemy."

"The liberal troops, now retreating through the mountains, are about six miles west of Esquipulas. All the other liberal troops have been put to rout or have been destroyed."

STRIKES RESTAURANTS SAFE.

Burglars went into the restaurants 170 West Harrison street Wednesday night and carried out a small safe containing $46.

CHARGES VET IS HELD IN HOSPITAL BY WARRING KIN

Salvatore Roselli, a world war veteran, is falsely confined in the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital while his relatives squabble over his $100,000 estate. It was charged yesterday by his attorney, Miss Helen M. Chase, at a hearing on a habeas corpus writ in his behalf before Superior Judge Joseph B. David. The attorney particularly accused his wife, Mrs. Attalia Roselli, 37 North Waller avenue.

"She didn't have his interest or welfare at heart, but was thinking of his memory when she insisted he be held for alleged insanity," declared Miss Chase. "Doctors last month found he had a mild form of dementia praecox, but he was cured at the Aetna Brothers hospital and the Chicago sanitarium."

The court appointed Dr. Edwin Jacobson, an alienist, to examine the ex-soldier and continued the hearing until April 21.

Church Choirs Give Elmer a Night He Likes

Welcome Gunn School of Music to the Air.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

First on last evening's generous list of radio pleasures was Rosini's "Statue Mater," by the well known and well liked Ebenezer Lutheran church choir, George Carlson directing, WLIB, 7 to 8.

At the concert was being unfolded for the first time this year I was wondering for a while why it sounded so new. This, I found to be due to the inherent originality of the music, its freedom from the commonplace. This well trained choir is more than equal to the technical difficulties. The solo work, of which there is considerable, fell to Watt Weber, tenor, and the station's staff soloists, Helen Protheroe, soprano; Kathleen Ryan, contralto, and Bryce Talbot, baritone.

The Temple Baptist church choir sang Stainer's "The Crucifixion," WENR, 8 to 9. This cantata is also quite familiar to the experienced among the radio audience. It is as simple as A B C compared with Rosini's inspiration, yet with all its simplicity it is surprisingly effective and full of feeling. The cantata was given very creditably.

Of special news interest was the opening program of the Gunn School of Music studio, through WWAEC. It was the Welsh male choir, Daniel Protheroe directing, 9 to 9:25. Policy as announced is: "Programs that will be educational and entertaining." That sounds promising.

Fifteen golden minutes: Two movements of Mozart's Piano Concerto in D minor, Kathleen Stewart, soloist, with orchestra accompaniment, WEAFC, WMAA, 7:45 to 8.

The last half of W-G-N's 8 to 10 program from New York City was just about as charming as one runs across.

ARREST KNOX'S SON WITH TWO PINTS ON HIS HIP

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., April 14.—(Special)—Philadelphia, April 14.—(Special)—Knox, son of the governor of the state, was locked up at the First precinct police station today on charges of drunkenness and illegal possession of two pints of corn whisky.

Knox was arrested when he engaged in an argument with two traffic policemen who were chalklining numbers on the tires of parked automobiles. Knox told the policemen, according to their version of the affair, that chalkling the tires of automobiles was not a gentlemanly thing for a policeman to do.

During the ensuing argument, Officer R. S. Glavin said he noticed that Knox apparently had been drinking. The patrol was called and, after an argument, Knox was hauled bodily into the machine and taken to the station. His butler, Henry Alexander Barnes, colored, also was arrested. Knox was released after putting up a $500 bond.

(Friday, April 15.)

Good Friday Program Is Feature on WG-N

THE high point in the Good Friday program will be at 10:15 o'clock, at W-G-N. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel presents "Behold the Man," a radio feature based on the story of Christ's crucifixion as told in the gospels.

Behold the Man" is an original story written especially for this occasion by George Carroll, opens in the Garden of Gethsemane and follows the lines of the two thousand year old drama through its seven historic scenes to its culminating on the mount of Cal-

GEORGE CARROLL. The story moves quickly, and is told simply as a story, with the essential drama of each scene vividly pictured for the listener. A specially synchronized musical background arranged by Henry Selinger will practically every combination of instruments.

Now Comes Wrist Pistol for Well Dressed Thugs

What the well dressed hoodlum will wear this spring was exemplified yesterday by Philip Bonkreed in a pool hall at Madison and Sangamon streets. He shot back his cuff and displayed the valley's first wrist pistol. While his friends were telling him how chic the innovation was, Lieut. Edward Birmingham walked in and arrested him. Bonkreed's .22 caliber automatic was fixed to his wrist in a little holster from which it could be easily shaken.

these new Armstrong Floors

WHAT do you sell? Merchandise across the counter? A service over a desk? . . . It makes no difference. You want the public—your customers—to walk in, to look around.

When they do, comments are made . . . opinions passed . . . and the appearance of your office or store invariably affects your sales opportunities.

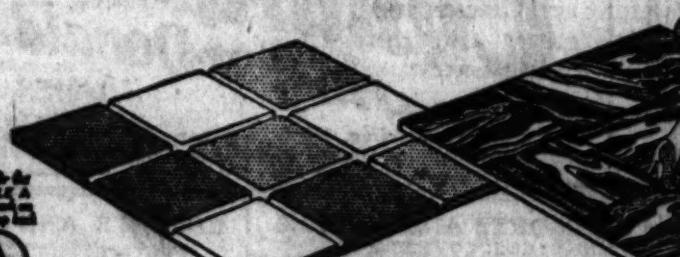

And right underfoot—where your customers walk—is the place to introduce the eye-appealing beauty that makes customers want to come in . . . shop around . . . and buy.

Snap . . . Dash . . . Eye Appeal. You'll get all three in the new Armstrong Floors. Colorful. Correctly designed. They transform a place of business overnight.

Quickly installed? Yes. Permanent, too. And the first cost—a low one—is the last cost to you. Why? There's no refinishing. A waxing and polishing, a dry-dusting, is all the cleaning care necessary.

And—as easy to buy as a new hat. Just drop in or telephone to a good department, furniture, or linoleum store. Ask for samples and estimates.

Below, you see two of the many new Armstrong Floor designs for business interiors. All are beautiful floors—and permanent floors when mounted in place over builders' bonding felt.

New York, April 14.—[Special.]—Further developments in the controversy over the continuance of activities of the Reed senatorial campaign fund investigating committee are expected tomorrow with the arrival of Senator Reed [Dem., Mo.] from Denver.

Two of the other members of the committee will be on hand to confer with Senator Reed during the next two or three days. Senator King [Dem., Utah] is already here, while Senator La Follette [Rep., Wis.] is expected on Saturday or Sunday from Pinehurst, N. C., where he has been recuperating from an illness. Senator McNary [Rep., Ore.], the only other member of the committee who has left for the west. The fifth place is vacant, owing to the refusal of Senator Peffer [Rep., O.] to accept the appointment of Vice President Dawes for the Geff vacancy.

A hearing on the proceedings brought by the committee in its effort to obtain possession of ballot boxes in Pennsylvania will take place in the federal court at Philadelphia on Monday.

Pending the outcome of the Pennsylvania action, it is expected that Senator Reed will make no plans for further activities by the committee.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—[Special.]—Postponement of the trial of Harry F. Sinclair and former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, in the conspiracy case involving the Teapot Dome oil lease, was granted by Justice Hines in the District of Columbia Supreme court today by the request of government counsel.

The trial which was to have commenced next Monday is now scheduled to start on May 23.

While Germany is developing chemically and expanding her shipping and export trade, Dr. Cuno asserted America remains an important figure in Germany's future program.

"We need your raw material and the help of your banks," he said. "You can use our experience. With close cooperation in every way between our countries, and especially the benefit would not accrue to Germany alone but to all of Europe, and thereby reound to the United States through improved world conditions."

Dr. Cuno will go to Washington tomorrow to call on President Coolidge to be the guest at a dinner at the German embassy. He will go to Chicago on Sunday, and after two days there will report on his first trip to Los Angeles and the Pacific coast.

ALL-BRAN gave him new lease on life when it checked constipation

Constipation is almost a universal curse — father of more than forty diseases. Yet there is real assurance in Mr. Ladue's letter:

"After sixteen years of taking pills, it cured me. Millions of people that suffer from constipation don't know what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN would do, some of the pill-makers say. If you have constipation, a doctor should recommend it. I tell all that I know to that they can get rid of it. And after six months I started on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN three months ago."

MR. JULIAN LADUE, Burlington, Vt.

Hollow cheeks, pimples, listlessness are some of the symptoms. Don't risk it another day. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Comes ready to eat. Sold and served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Recipes on package.

THREE POWERS
FIX JUNE 12 FOR NAVAL ARMSTALK

'Big Navy' Men Plan New Fight in Congress.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—[Special.]—Exchanges between the Washington, London and Tokio governments have tentatively fixed June 12 as the date for the meeting of the three power naval arms conference at Geneva. The date has not been agreed upon definitely, but it is assumed at the state department that it will be agreeable to the British and the Japanese, who had previously expressed preference for an opening date later than June 1.

Selection of naval experts who, with those now at Geneva as American delegates to the league of nations' preliminary commission on disarmament, is continuing, but the state department is not yet ready to name the complete list of its personnel. Present plans of the department are to leave the American mission now at Geneva under Minister Hugh Gibson intact, with some additions from high ranking naval officers here.

But navy members of congress are limbering up already to carry on their successful fight of last session for additional cruisers for the American fleet. Chairman Hale of the Senate naval committee said today he would seek authorization for probably seven more cruisers to bring the number of these craft in commission to twenty-five.

While Senator Hale is holding up his campaign for the cruisers, pending the outcome of the approaching three power naval conference, some others who want more cruisers are outspoken in their belief that little hope can be held out for great results from the conference.

KANKAKEE LINE TO ABANDON ITS SERVICE APRIL 23

Abandonment of operation by the Chicago and Indiana Traction company, known as the Kankakee line, was formally announced yesterday by W. W. Crawford, the receiver, and service will cease on Saturday, April 23, at 11:30 p. m.

The terminal of the Kankakee line was at 63rd and Halsted streets and for years service was maintained between Chicago, Harvey, Chicago Heights, Kankakee, Crest and several other smaller towns. Authority to abandon the railroad was given by the Illinois Commerce commission in an order entered March 9.

High operating costs and failure of the automobile and motor truck were given by the receiver as reasons for failure of the company to meet operating expenses.

The youths—Leonard Rich, Hurlt, and Emerson Wilson—were sentenced June 15 last to serve thirteen years at Pontiac. They pleaded guilty to the charge of assault but denied that the girl had offered resistance.

Miss Westervelt lives in Shabbona. The boys come from well known families.

S PITCHERS TRANSFORM FARM TILDEN TO INTO GOLF COURSE S; WIN, 7-5 AT EUCLID HILLS

ski Takes Honors
at Plate.

BY HARLAND ROHM.
Work of transforming a first rate farm into a first rate golf course is progressing so rapidly at Euclid Hills,
the new south side Masonic Golf club,
that officers are laying plans for the opening of the first nine holes on Memorial day and the entire eighteen holes by July.

What is actually happening on the 160 acres tract on Roberts road at 147th street at present is razing some winter killed spots on the fairway, planting of the course with Flemmow seed stolons, and the building of a golf house into the present farm.
Houses were built last fall, but planting awaited installation of the water system.

Two Farm Into Clubhouse.

Remodeling of the farm buildings,
an eight room house, and two barns,
a temporary clubhouse will start shortly. The barns will be made into locker rooms, connected by a pergola with the farmhouse, which will be revamped into a clubhouse.

The course, which is being built under the direction of Leonard Macomer, will be 6,833 yards in length, a par of 72. There are 18 holes, one of which offers plenty of danger of a disheartening "pop" for a poorly hit ball. The longest hole is 560 yards and the shortest a 140 yard masher pitch. For the opening not quite sixty traps have been laid to catch the unlucky, but these will be increased in number later.

Anderson Named Pro.

Sandy Anderson will be the pro and Jerry Conover, formerly of Sunset
Ridge, the greenskeeper. J. D. Mc-Guffin is president of the club. Members will hold a meeting at the Shoreland hotel next Tuesday night.

For the purpose of promoting a spirit that will enable any member to drop out to the club at any time and make up a foursome in the locker room, President Allen Bowen of Calumet has called on every committee chairman and member to attend a get-together dinner at the club Saturday night. At the meeting it is hoped to lay the foundation for complete cooperation between all committees and incidentally to introduce to members who haven't been out this year a course which is in near mid-season condition.

The Hamilton Club Golf association will hold its annual meeting and beef steak dinner at the club at $3.00 each.
After dinner the golfers will try pitching and putting for prizes in the gym.

CANADA DRY boosts Chicago Territory sales to one million dollars in two years! 55% of its campaign was Chicago Sunday Tribune Rotogravure

CANADA DRY GINGER ALE made its first appearance in the Chicago Territory a little over two years ago. This national distributor started its campaign in the face of strong local competition and set out to conquer the country, market by market, and zone by zone, using newspaper space almost exclusively. Their national appropriation runs into the hundreds of thousands, but they have used no national magazine space.

During 1925 and 1926 Canada Dry invested $203,214 in Chicago newspapers. In The Tribune alone they spent $111,567. Canada Dry sales soared to well over $1,000,000! Here's how Canada Dry divided its appropriation in Chicago in 1925 and 1926:

	1925 and 1926
Tribune Rotogravure	$111,567.00
The News	22,395.00
Herald and Examiner	21,252.00
American	48,000.00
Tribune Rotogravure	$111,567.00
All Other Papers Combined	91,647.00

During these two years Canada Dry spent 21% more money in Tribune Rotogravure than in all the other Chicago papers combined!

Canada Dry has scheduled 26,460 lines of Tribune Rotogravure for the first ten months of 1927, thereby manifesting their continued faith in the Chicago market and the strength of The Chicago Tribune.

Here's the story: Canada Dry came into Zone 7—a new market with a new product. A powerful advertising influence was needed. The Chicago Sunday Tribune filled that role for Canada Dry.

"We feel," writes P. M. Boggs, vice-president and assistant general manager of Canada Dry, "that substantial recognition is due The Chicago Tribune for the part you played in securing these splendid results. In placing Canada Dry on the market we have followed The Tribune's zone plan of merchandising, firmly entrenching our position in one market before going on to conquer the next."

Canada Dry placed 100% of its Tribune advertising in the Rotogravure Picture Section of The Chicago Tribune.

The Sunday Tribune dominates an unusually rich and responsive area. Here is a tremendous market of cities and towns, closely grouped at the head of the richest valley in the world—an economic and geographic unit! Here 20,000,000 people live in a 200-mile radius. Their net income is eight billion dollars annually. And The Sunday Tribune is read by 60% of all the families in 1312 cities and towns in this zone.

SHELL
GASOLINEA Big Success

SHELL Continues to Lead the Way —

Constant betterment is the spirit of the day. And nowhere is this so strikingly illustrated as in the modern motor car.

Compare the automobile of the present—its beauty of line, its swift, silent motor, its comforts and conveniences—with that of former years.

As motors have changed in speed, stroke and bore, there has arisen a need for an improved gasoline to meet these changed conditions.

SHELL answers the call with 400 "Extra Dry," the first basic improvement in gasoline quality that has been made in years—and at no advance in price.

It's your old favorite—SHELL—brought to a higher specific gravity—a higher degree of power and perfection—by lowering the "end point" to 400°.

The success of this wonder gasoline has surpassed all expectations—taxing the capacity of the three great SHELL refineries to supply the demand. Shell users are enthusiastic in their praise—thousands who have never before used Shell are flocking to Shell Stations and Shell Dealers for the greatest gasoline value on the market.

If YOU want to know the reason for this success—if YOU want to realize the full possibilities of your car—in increased speed, power, response and all-around improved performance—"Change to Shell."

Any yellow-red Shell Service Station or any Shell Dealer is ready to supply you with this new gasoline at the regular price—not one cent extra for the extra quality it contains or the extra service it will render.

The Improved
SHELL Way
Takes Only
The GASOLINE
from the CRUDE

The old way (437° End Point)—the one in general use—takes the gasoline from the crude with part of the heavier and less volatile elements.

The SHELL way (400° End Point) takes only the cream of the crude—producing a higher gravity gasoline—extra dry, clean-burning and wonderfully powerful and effective.

The NEW Shell Gasoline, refined to "400 End Point" costs more to produce because less gasoline is obtained per gallon of crude—but the price to you remains the same.

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER.

SYNOPSIS.

Sophy and Piers Tancred have just taken up the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Italian Riviera. Sophy learns that her former husband Alan Brooke is there, and that they are to meet at dinner that night. She is afraid of her husband's return and wants him to leave her; she goes to Brooke's room to warn him against telling Piers that she has been married. Willie Moppet, a gump of Bordighera, interrupts them and Sophy flies back to the Villa Mona in fear.

INSTALLMENT VI.

Suddenly it seemed to her that the whole world was seething with intrigue, and there was a repellent sort of fascination in the idea. Field glasses with Lilla and Mr. Moppet behind them on separate balconies; herself and Alan Brooke behind a closed second wall; Piers walking unashamedly in the moist fern garden to demand first his beauty and then herself. And Alan's peasant woman. Sophy tried to recall Cristina's face and succeeded only in visualizing a pale, sleep-eared, dark hair, sleekly parted.

"I call it a shame, m'm, if you can't take an afternoon's walk without such a lot of upset," remarked Agnes.

"It is rather silly," Sophy replied. "Any one would think—." She hesitated. Why should they think at all, she wondered? Was it because intrigue got into the air somehow?

"Any one'd think you wasn't old enough to be trusted," Agnes finished hotly.

Sophy flashed a look of inquiry into her mirror. Was she old enough to be trusted? At what precise age were women old enough for that? Piers had the gift of second sight and he believed in harems. He had been born into a wrong country, if not a wrong age.

Piers was placated. The sight of Sophy, fresh and charming in cool silks and a diadem with the pearls of her marriage gift to her, acted upon him with the poison of his own suspicion. He pawed and patted her and took private satisfaction in the knowledge that Lilla Brant was envious of Sophy's pearls and perhaps a little envious of Sophy's possession of such a desirable husband. Piers enjoyed teasing Lilla much more than he might enjoy the discomfiture of a deposed favorite forced to behave gracefully toward her successful rival. There had been a time when Lilla herself only just missed becoming Mrs. Piers Tancred.

In the company of women, particularly of women who looked to him for the jam on the dry bread of life, he was happy and at ease, and with men of his own sort he was at ease, too, but mixed company tried him.

It had been in his head that Sophy had slipped away that afternoon to have a tête-à-tête with the Moppet fool, but now he was convinced that Lilla had told a mischievous tale in order to stimulate his jealousy. Let her pay for her tricks. Consequently Sophy was his little girl and his baby doll, and another little cocktail wouldn't do her any harm. Also, he hinted at extravagances he might be coaxed to commit on her behalf at the famous antique shop of Collina.

"O, by all means, how do you do!"

On this exciting note the trio finally disposed themselves in the big car, with Piers opposite Sophy, so that when he swung the seat around he could rest his hand on her knee. He was not conscious that she winced, nor did he wince himself when he offered her a penny for her thoughts and she replied that she had been wondering if the bruise on her shoulder showed. He laughed and said he would kiss it and make it well.

Despite his dark thoughts regarding Willie Moppet, Piers was really looking forward to this initial excursion into the social life of Bordighera. He had no desire to see without Lilla's pointing it out to him that Mr. Moppet was the acknowledged local society, and Piers had a passing fancy for "the best people." He felt that he must be born from the earth to be the Princesses Dohler, an Englishwoman of very certain age widowed in the Italian nobility. Piers' snobbishness even honored that some people had a right to be poor. The princess was very poor, he had been told. And then, of course, there was this Alan Brooke. Lilla was enlarging upon him again when the car sloped up the grade to the Doria and they found Willie Moppet parading the lion on the pebbled space under the arc lights in front of the hotel entrance.

Sophy gave a sharp sigh. Alan had acted upon her advice and apparently done nothing to risk Mr. Moppet's displeasure. She was nervously excited, keyed to the highest pitch, but, after all, the trying moment passed off harmlessly, almost negligently, out there under the arc lights, a stage, as it were, with a fair proportion of the Doria's guests for an interested audience. Mr. Moppet effected a formal introduction between herself and Alan, and she wondered what Alan could have said to him after she left the Casa Poverina.

"How 'dy do," Mrs. Tancred. "—Mr. Tancred."

"O, by all means, how 'dy do!"

She was shaking hands with Alan; a little fair-haired woman in silver and pearls—the pearls of Piers Tancred—shaking hands with that famous Alan Brooke. Tall, slim Alan, no gray clay about him now; his strong hand clasping hers for a brief moment and then letting herself be embraced by the crushing power of Piers, while the rippling shallows of Lilla Brant's small talk flowed coolly.

Willie Moppet, as Piers expected, took possession of Sophy and he was left to amble along in the wake of the other two. But they merged again in the sumptuous blue and gold of the Queen Margherita suite, which Willie had decorated with quantities of carnations, so expensive when one bought them by the dozen, that the boy could afford nothing by the hundred in the flower market if one knew where to look.

Piers was most impressed because he had expected to be, since he did not know that this royal suite had only been loaned to Willie. With an eye for harum-scarum effects, Mr. Moppet had scattered some of his own belongings about, volumes of poetry of exotic bindings, pictures—the inevitable Riviera water colors—and a few ornaments in the way of bronze and Tanagra figurines.

Cocktails appeared with the accompaniment of olives, salted almonds, and potato chips, and Piers began to scent agreeable possibilities in Bordighera apart from the Villa Mona. Certainly, Mr. Moppet was a civilized young man. As for Alan Brooke, Piers quite liked him after the second cocktail, for all this aloof stand-offishness, or, perhaps because of it. Arrogant himself with pride of position, Piers Tancred could always be subjected by super-arrogance of another sort, and Alan Brooke was at no pains to conceal his almost complete ignorance to the existence of Sophy's second husband. Indeed, he seemed scarcely aware of Sophy herself.

As they awaited the arrival of the princess, Piers began to stalk the lion. He started the process crudely by suggesting a business deal. It struck him suddenly that it would be a good thing to have this man sculpt Sophy in one of the famous Italian marbles, and he blandly invited Alan Brooke to name his own price.

Sophy blushed crimson and even Willie Moppet's savor faire was on the point of deserting her. Alan laughed disagreeably and said that for such a lovely subject as Mrs. Tancred the obligation would be entirely on his side. How that laugh hurt Sophy!

Fortunately at that moment there was warning of the princess's approach, which sent Willie Moppet something else to think about, and he darted out to welcome her.

Everything rustled gently at her entrance; the cocktails had been whisked away and a glass of sherry awaited her; Lilla extinguished her cigarette and Piers coughed and twiddled his diamond ring.

As soon as she set eyes upon the lean figure in tight corseted black satin with the dusty brown wig surmounting a face that for lines was like a map, Sophy Tancred had sharp misgivings. The Princesses Dohler—that name suddenly had a familiar ring, a meaning to which Sophy had been deaf before. Helplessly she cast an imploring glance at Alan, who, while poor at remembering names, could scarcely have forgotten the crumpled features of that amiable old scarecrow.

Last Popular Symphony of Season Played

Martin Martinson Gains Favor as Soloist.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra played its last popular concert of the season at Orchestra hall last night to a house with every seat sold and its wonted quota of applause, which was more than any other series. Martin Martinson was the soloist, playing Hubay's "Gypsy Fantasy" in so brilliant a manner that the patrons called him back to play an encore. The symphony was Schumann's first, which is reasonably important at any time.

One of the interesting features of the program was to observe how the audience took to Eric Du Larmer's music to "The Betrayal," which he himself conducted, and to three items from Deems Taylor's "Through the Looking Glass" the point being that those three works are apparently on the way to becoming permanent numbers in an American repertoire.

Helen Snyder and Alice Myers appeared in joint recital in the Young American Artists series at Fine Arts Recital hall. It was another case, much too frequent these days, that must be considered promising youth that has by no means reached professional achievement. Miss Snyder is a girl with a quiet voice, and a considerable ability in projecting singing words, without, however, having come anywhere near full development of range. Miss Myers is a pianist of naturally good taste, not yet technically equipped to play Chopin or Liszt Etudes without stumbling. Some good may be accomplished by premature appearances, but the music department of this newspaper is not prepared to debate on the affirmative side of the proposition.

Giraffe Stricken with Eye Disease at Circus Here

Aphakia, an eye disease that affects humans as well as animals, is its first appearance among vertebrates in the menagerie of the Seals-Pfleider circus at the Coliseum, and the victim was a male giraffe, barely over 9 months old. Zoo attendants about noon noticed that the giraffe was having trouble in locating his feed box and investigation revealed the eye trouble. David S. Jaffray, assistant state veterinarian, was called and treated the $10,000 beauty.

Edwin Mitchell, 3219 North Irving avenue, messenger boy. The time is now his life plus whatever that is supposed to be. I'd like to go to some place where there is surf riding, boat riding, fishing, swimming, baseball, tennis, and all the other sports. I wish on some vacation I could go up in an airplane or a seaplane.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Wants Baseball Glove.

I wonder if any one of your readers has a baseball glove which they do not want any more. I have wanted a glove for a long time, but I cannot afford to buy one. J. K.

Just another sign that spring is here is an appeal like this! Can you resist it?

Mother Is Despaired.

I am writing for a woman greatly in need. She has been sick and has four children to take care of—the boys are 8, 5 and 1; the girl is 6. Her husband deserted her a short time ago, as he is wanted by the police. They are all in need of clothing and I wondered if an appeal to your readers would help. Mrs. C. H.

An appeal to our readers usually does help and I know it will in this case, too. This is a poor deserving mother and your discarded clothing will be well placed if you give it to her.

use a certain pair of Gothamites, arriving this morning, seem to be more than usually pleased to reach Chicago, their hearts full of cause.

The Thomas B. Yullies are due here today for a few days' visit with their daughter and her husband, the Wolcott Blairs, and, being justly proud grandparents, are making the trip to be on hand for an auspicious family occasion, the christening tomorrow afternoon of the Blairs' fine young son.

The christening is to take place at the Houghtaling chapel at St. James, and will be followed by a small reception at the apartment at 209 Lake Shore drive, of the other pair of grandparents, the Watson F. Blairs.

The little boy, who is still only a few months old, is to be given the dignified name of Watson Keppel Blair, in memory of his uncle, Wolcott's older brother, who died a few years ago, creating much a loss in the circle of Chicago's socially prominent young men and women.

Across young married couples, the Clarence Mitchells have returned from California, whither they went on their winter wanderings, and are getting settled in their new apartment at 232 East Walton place. Pretty Mrs. Mitchell, Marjorie, who was, and is, a very lovely bit of furniture for new mensage while she was away, and is having a fine time arranging them and her older possessions to make the apartment one of the prettiest in town.

Students Parade to Boom Cleanup Drive

Led by R. O. T. C. cadets and a band, 5,000 students of Crane Junior college and Crane Technical High school yesterday paraded in the neighborhood to boost the clean up drive that will be held in the public schools April 18 to May 2.

Beginning on Monday, 250,000 students in the public schools will work on park, fifth, and littered back yards. Ash cans will be emptied, shrubs trimmed, outbuildings painted, and sidewalks scrubbed.

Last year students of Harrison High school won first prize in the clean up drive. They killed 12,128 rats, cleaned 4,971 vacant lots, and planted 18,345 vegetable gardens. A total of $242,482 units of work were done by students in all the schools.

The clean up campaign is sponsored by the board of education and the association of commerce.

Park Board Acts to Hasten Sheridan Road Widening

Negotiations leading to the widening and resurfacing of Sheridan road between Bryn and Argyle streets were furthered yesterday when President David H. Jackson of the Lincoln park commissioners announced that the park would pay one-third of the expense. Twenty per cent of the cost would be borne by the city, the rest by property owners. The board at a meeting yesterday voted $33,000 for traffic and street lights along the new double drive from Oak street to North avenue.

'Them as Has Beauty, Gits,' but the Prize May Be Tarnished

BY DORIS BLAKE

Wonder what a Plain Jane thinks about when she reads of the marriage of the beautiful young Betty Flyaway to some old codger who gives her a string of pearls and takes her to Europe to order a hand painted French racer. Suppose she leans back on her sofa seat and sighs: "Them as has beauty, gits!"

What do they "git"? Often the pretty girls get a worse love deal than the Janes. Especially if the old codger has been cast off by a wife, or two, or three. Which happens frequently in the stories of "Young Beautiful Capture." Millions of them.

There's nothing to sit down and sigh over in a romance between the blue-eyed baby doll with the glittering hair and a man with a couple of spouses before her. Not even with the pearls and the racers thrown in!

Read the life histories of a number of our stage and film beauties, and ask yourself if it is such a hard lot to be born minus a pair of come-hither eyes and a form divine. Sometimes I wonder if these professional beauties are not so engrossed in making up their faces that they never have time to look up to see from whence it comes. Surely if they took a good square look at the man they'd face about right and take one who didn't have a record of not being able to make a couple of women happy!

If they had to wreck a home to get the goose that lays their golden eggs, the Plain Janes can get a lot of consolation out of the fact that no woman yet has been able to claim happiness acquired that way. It just isn't in the cards! You can't be selfish and be happy.

You don't need to waste any signs over your scrub nose when you see the photo of a beauty on shipboard leaning on the arm of some weather beaten, much married, and simpering old fellow. He has not got it in him to make her happy, and she hasn't got it in her to be happy.

With a face like hers you think she could have the nicest, best looking, smartest young man in captivity. Perhaps she is just a bit too smart for her, and the way she takes out to the smart little subversive home one who is not a ravine beauty, except for the way her heart shines out through her honest eyes.

If you think beauty is the battle three-quarters won, take a look around you on a walk down some of our nice residential streets—say at the hour of the baby parade. Or at train time, hang around the suburban station and see what some of the best looking men off the train and look eagerly around for "They're not such raving beauties, as a rule," who, come to get them in the car?

So, if you have never been suggested for a bathing beauty contest, that's no sign you won't be picked for the one you are far more keen to enter.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

An Orange Omelet.

An orange may seem a sort of a main course to us, but the English serve an omelet near the end of the meal, in the place allotted to savories and just before the fruit and cheese. We serve the dessert course thus nowadays. The French and Italians use the sweet omelets as an alternative of the souffles, or what is puddingwise to us.

For about as large an orange omelet as one can make in a "spider" take four eggs, two tablespooms of cream, two tablespooms of butter, three-fourths cup of orange juice and pulp combined, a little salt, and one level tablespoom of cornstarch.

A large orange will yield about three-fourths of a cup of pulp and juice. Cut it in halves from pole to pole. Take out the pithy or stringy piece that connects the fruit stem. Then cut across and scrape out pulp with a spoon. In removing the pulp in this fashion instead of the ordinary way, as when we cut the orange in halves the other way, it is shredded and there is also less waste.

Melt one tablespoom of butter in a saucepan and then blend the cornstarch with it. Let these two stand until the egg is ready to be cooked, then add the shredded orange and stir and cook until it thickens, but do not boil for more than a minute, then keep on till morning will keep them from becoming brittle.

Dick's baby sister was born on the fourth of July. He was trying to account for her deep red complexion. "Well," he said finally, "I guess there was enough shootin' to make anybody pretty mad!" H. M. C.

Junior was to spend his fourth birthday with grandmother. When mother and Junior got on the street car, with a merry smile on his face, he said, "Put in grownup money for me today, mother."

Old Folks Need
a Mild Laxative
-Not a "Physic"

DR. W. S. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 82

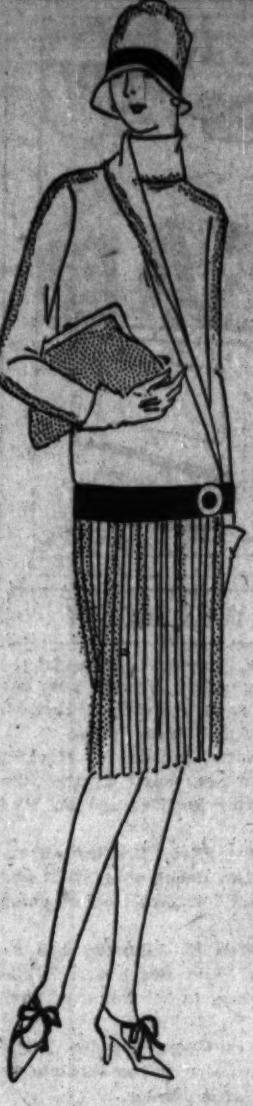

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help, else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

In your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you purge and "cleanse" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those chronically constipated. It never gripes, sick-

When in doubt as to what to answer when the beautiful manicurist inquires, "Will you have two coatings of nail polish on your nails?" say "One will do."

That double charged shine is considered vulgar. Pink nails are in quite good form, but red is not in our best manicured circles. Of course, if you are one of the Daughter of Nile type the ban may be lifted. But what modern American girl can look like the Egyptian siren from sassing to scandal and attend to her job?

When you are having the one coat of nail polish, insist that the coloring be applied with a short, slanting brush at the base of the nail as well as the white. Before it dries, it can be wiped off quickly. Once dry, the entire coloring has to be removed and another application made. The coloring deftly applied leaves the nail pinker and the moons and the finger tips whiter, the effect you are after. The contract gives a pretty effect.

The quantity of shine on the nail ought to be left to personal choice, but the overglazed finger tips look gauche, and since they are not indulged by fastidious women there does not seem to be any particular reason for their continuance.

The pointed finger tip, too, has lost vogue and the smooth manicure.

The oval is preferred and the nails are permitted to grow longer than formerly. A small girl, however, should not try to adopt the extreme nail length. Proportion must be considered in even such a small detail as the length of the finger nail, but there is no question that a slightly plump hand can be given a finer line with a slight extension of the nail. A plump hand would not be able to take the extremely long finger nail test without being made grotesque.

If in the course of the day the tapping of typewriter keys threatens the treasuring of the nail, you can turn to preserve them by striking with the flesh side underneath the nail and dipping the nails occasionally in a saucer of heated olive oil at night. Or cold cream injected beneath the nail at night and kept on till morning will keep them from becoming brittle.

FARM and GARDEN BY FRANK HIDGWAY

Southern Illinois' fruit belt is all dressed up in pink for Easter. It's blooming time in Egypt. Throughout the southern counties of the state peaches and pears are blooming and apples have been opening their blossoms this week.

Blossom time is bee time in orchards. Bees play a part almost as important as the cultivators, pruners, and sprayers, but they make less fuss about it. Honey bees are credited with having added 14,000 barrels of fruit in a single year in an Illinois commercial orchard and it was done at a time when neighboring orchards had only a fair crop.

Five dollars a colony is frequently paid to have bees moved into an orchard during fruit bloom, according to C. O. Dirks, a Purdus entomologist.

"The bee's body is clothed with many branched and forked hairs, enabling it to gather and transfer pollen from one flower to another in its busy visits," he says. "This insect, unlike other pollinators, works only one kind of flower at a time. It readily goes from one variety of a fruit to another variety, but not from one flower to another flower of the same tree. This habit of carrying only one kind of pollen is called 'fidelity' and is a great service to the grower."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Balking at the Tax.

My most embarrassing moment occurred recently when I went to the theater to purchase my tickets. I was advertising that the price of one was two dollars. Upon handing the man in the box office exactly four dollars, he said, "Twenty cents for Uncle Sam, please." The leaders will be J. Shedd, J. F. Lyons, George Reeves, and Miss Mary Williams.

and thought it was the request of some charitable association, so politely refusing. I took the tickets and started to leave, when he called me and pointed to a placard on which the prices were stated, and to my confusion and humiliation I read ten cent tax on each ticket.

WOMEN!—New Hair Where Now Falling

—Guaranteed

Your own dealer gives you guarantee in writing. Costs nothing if it fails.

Ends the thinness bobbing invites by directly rejuvenating dormant hair roots

YOU can't cover up thin spots on a bobbed head. You must grow new hair. And you can't do that by rubbing "tonics" on the surface of your scalp.

This method is guaranteed in writing to do it. It is guaranteed, too, to stop falling hair completely. If it fails, it costs you nothing. So it is really not to try it. Get it at any drug store. It is called Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage.

It does what no other method does or has ever done: Acts to revive dormant hair roots by massaging powerful root-rejuvenating and germ-stimulating agents directly into the roots of the hair. It is protected under U. S. patent.

In one year, 300,000 cases tried, last three years, carefully kept records show it is 75% effective. That is, about 75% of the cases in which the hair was registered in the great majority of cases. Think what this means.

With this you can stimulate with oiling tonics. The method protects the hair roots people need to believe when beyond repair are renewable.

Get any drug store. Get the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. Written guarantee to grow new hair in 10 days. It is guaranteed to stop falling hair completely, supplied by the dealer, with full treatment. Costs the same as ordinary hair remedies.
